250 Attend Dinner Meeting

More than 250 paid tribute to Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, during an "Appreciation Dinner" Tuesday night at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana.

Setting the theme for the get - together were words of praise from Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democratic congressman with whom Gosney long has been associated.

HAYS compared Gosney with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in "his ability to get men of divergent personalities to work together as a team" and pointed out the patience of the man who has headed county Democrats since the early 1950's.

The congressman left the dinner event early to fly back to Washington to launch subcommittee hearings into the "brainwashing" charge made by Gov. George Romney of Michigan relative to the Johnson administration's Vietnam policies.

Grill Owner Killed, Man Found Shot After Holdup Bid

WEIRTON — City police today pressed investigation of a possible link between the slaying of a tavern operator shot on his way to work this morning and a Youngstown area man found wounded shortly afterward.

Charles Nagy, 55, of 124 Kent Way, operator of Chuck's Grill at 3001 Main St., was pronounced dead at Weirton General Hospital from a head wound.

Police said he was fatally wounded when he and his wife apparently were accosted by two or more men as the Nagys left their home to open the grill about 5:30 a.m.

A short time later, William Ravnell, a Youngstown area resident, was found by police at Cove Rd. and Linton Lane with a bullet wound of the stomach. He was in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital, and was to have undergone surgery this morning.

According to reports, Mrs. Nagy was unable to say how many men attacked the couple. She fled the scene and ran to a neighbor's home.

Nagy was found by police in his driveway with a gun in one hand. Another weapon was found in some nearby bushes.

Chief of Police Ed Frankovitch, said the attackers were attempting to rob Nagy of a large amount of money he carried in order to cash pay checks of steel workers.

An autopsy was scheduled to be performed on Nagy later today.

Mrs. Nagy reportedly suffered bruises and was being x-rayed at the hospital. She was in "good" condition.

There was no information concerning the alleged attackers.

Reds Ease Shelling Of Con Thien

American Aircraft Encounter Swarms Of Jets, Missiles

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists slackened their month-long artillery battle of attrition along the demilitarized zone Tuesday and the focus of the war shifted to North Vietnam with American warplanes stepping up their raids despite swarms of Red jets and missiles.

North Vietnamese gunners fired 50 rounds to harass U.S. Marines at Con Thien, the key to American defenses blocking a possible Communist invasion of South Vietnam's norther provinces. But the heaviest shellings—850 rounds—fell on two South Vietnamese airborne battalions a few miles away.

U.S. planes mounted a near-maximum effort over North Vietnam after a week of bad weather and encountered blistering defenses over the port of Haiphong and the vital northeast rail line that links Hanoi and Red China.

The North Vietnamese put up nearly every fighter they could muster from the unbombed MIG airfield at Phuc Yen. The Reds claimed downing five American jets but only one loss was acknowledged by the U.S. Command, and that was far to the south over the DMZ.

Air Force pilots reported many sightings of MIG17s and MIG21s, with three brief air battles and more attempts by Red fliers to sneak behind American planes on bombing runs.

Of the 35 jets North Vietnam is believed to have operational on fields below the Chinese frontier, at least half and probably more were in the air.

Once MIG21s attempted to drive a flight of Phantom jets into the path of a defensive net of Soviet-built ground-to-air missiles. The Phantoms broke off and saw two SAM missiles whiz by and blow up just out of range.

Navy pilots from the carriers Coral Sea and Intrepid smashed through SAM and antiaircraft barrages to finish off two important bridges in Haiphong that had been damaged in previous strikes.

Unloading bombs weighing up to 2,000 pounds, Navy fliers hit the main highway and rail bridge on the road to Hanoi and the 658-foot highway bridge leaving the southwest section of the port. The campaign against the bridges is part of the effort to strangle exit routes from the

Flood Miseries Pile Up

Thousands More In Texas Flee Raging Rio Grande

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Flood miseries piled up on both sides of the Texas-Mexico border today as the raging Rio Grande put more thousands of people to flight and threatened even worse depredations.

Torrents gushing downstream sent water creeping higher in Harlingen, already hard hit, and the swollen river spread across ever widening areas in Northern Mexico.

Reports of 10 more deaths in Mexico meanwhile boosted the toll from Hurricane Beulah, which battered through this area more than a week ago, to 54 fatalities. That figure included 11 deaths in Texas.

Flooding drove 8,000 to 10,000 Harlingen residents from their homes. The Red Cross already was operating two shelters and it said a fresh influx of evacuees forced the opening of two additional shelters. Many of the occupants had returned only the past day or two after taking refuge from Beulah's 160-mile winds in other cities.

Unofficial reports reaching Mexico City placed the number of homeless at one million across the Rio Grande, now five miles wide in places, in an area stretching from Reynosa downstream to Matamoros near the river's mouth.

In Harlingen the flood waters gushed down the Arroyo Colorado parallel to the river after a dam to prevent such a disaster broke two days ago.

Since then, the waters continue to thwart man's devices against them. Where dikes held, the water pressure reversed the intended flow of storm sewers, washing into business district streets.

Makeshift sandbag baffles gave way in great sections. Only two hastily constructed dikes thrown together by big bulldozers which pushed black earth across two streets kept the brown waters from washing over the entire city.

The level still rose today after covering the south side of this city of 41,000 people and spreading over big sections of the north side.

The International Boundary and Water Commission ordered another area north of the Arroyo Colorado and south of U.S. Highway 83 cleared of people late Tuesday. Water rose four feet deep in some houses soon after the evacuation began.

Contractor Resumes Chester Bridge Work

Traffic across the Chester Bridge was suspended again shortly before noon today as the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry resumed work on an Ohio Highway Department contract for resurfacing the floor of the span.

The crew completed work Tuesday on resurfacing the west-bound lane of the bridge. Traffic was allowed to resume at 6:30 p.m. and continued until about 11 this morning, when the surfacing job started again.

The company applied the base coat of the new surface yesterday on the east-bound lane. It was scheduled to complete the project this afternoon.

Oil Slows Convoy

Meeting Planned In Truck Strike

Rebel steel truckers and Teamster Union officials plan a meeting Thursday at Pittsburgh in a bid to halt the five-week strike which has brought violence to area highways.

Oil was added to nails and gunfire among road hazards which have developed during the protest move by the truckers.

Two large patches of engine oil on the Route 7 hill north of Rogers forced truckers and motorists to use the berm this morning in order to travel in that area.

Officers, who cited Floyd Lee Moore, 43, of Steubenville RD 1 south of Rogers, said there was no immediate link between him and the oil on the highway north of the village.

SOME 20 trucks from the Weirton - Steubenville area, headed north, came upon the two patches of oil shortly before 7 a. m. Patrolmen said the highway was very slippery in the north and south lanes, and summoned Ohio Highway Department crews to spread sand.

Officers stopped Moore after they saw oil running from the bed of the 1963 pickup onto the roadway in the north lane of Route 7 south of Rogers about five minutes after the oil was reported north of the village.

Moore is due a hearing Thursday before County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine.

Two more incidents of harassment of truckers were reported in East Liverpool this morning as convoys moved through the city, en route west.

Police said a bag of nails was thrown onto a ramp connecting the East Liverpool - Wellsville

Tax Duplicate Used

Wellsville Asks $32,000 In Overdue Water Bills

Wellsville is in the process of certifying some $32,000 in delinquent water bills to the Columbiana County auditor's office for collection on the tax duplicate.

County Auditor Kenneth Bell said certification papers are being prepared by Wellsville authorities to transfer the billings to the tax statements of about 250 propery owners in Wellsville.

The procedure involves adding the amount owed to the tax duplicate. When tax bills are mailed out, the amount is included, and property owners may not pay their taxes without also remitting the water bill.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the action stemmed from a compilation of records the city made in preparation for the proposed relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville.

Water department delinquencies were noted in the areas to be used for the new road right-of-way so the administration went through the records of all properties in the city, Baldasare said.

The city administration intended to notify both the owners involved and the Water and Sewage Committee of Council, he added.

A letter received from the Director of Local Services, A. C. Woman To Face Federal Court In Bank Shortage

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Gaylord Storer, a resident of the quiet little community of Guysville in Athens County, was bound over to the U.S. District Court in Columbus Tuesday in a $427,053.95 bank shortage case.

The 37-year-old mother, accompanied by her husband and an attorney, Roger L. Jones Jr. of Athens, appeared before U.S. Commissioner Willard C. Walter here and was freed on $10,000 bond, pending further court action.

Mrs. Storer, who waived a preliminary hearing, is charged with making false entries on the books of the Belpre branch of the Peoples Banking and Trust Co. of Marietta, where she worked for 19 years. She was head bookkeeper.

The shortage, found last Thursday by an FBI audit, was fully covered by insurance, bank officials said. Mrs. Storer was arrested Monday.

The bank said the shortage grew out of check removals and record entries dating back to 1958.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — This announcement, over the intercom at Seneca High School, got a big laugh: "Will some member of the class in math that is supposed to meet in Room 402 please come to the office and tell us where you are?"

None Injured In 3 Crashes

No one was injured in three traffic mishaps reported to police Tuesday afternoon.

A mishap on W. 6th St. at Peach Alley at 3:01 p. m. damaged a 1965 model sedan driven by Elizabeth R. Wright, 55, of 405 Burrows Ave. and a 1959 model pickup truck operated by James T. Taylor, 33, of 1735 Main St., Wellsville.

Taylor told police he was driving in the right - hand lane of the one - way street, looking for a parking spot. When he spotted a space in a parking lot across the street from City Hall he started a left turn, resulting in a collision with the Wright auto, which was in the left - hand lane, he said.

A 1963 sedan driven by Willis W. Stewart, 66, of 263 Haywood St. and a 1967 sedan operated by James S. Shenton, 23, of Park Pl. were damaged in a collision at 3:29 p. m. at Persimmon Alley and W. 6th St., officers said.

Shenton told police he was driving east on W. 6th St. when Stewart pulled from the alley and the collision resulted.

Woman To Face Federal Court In Bank Shortage

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Gaylord Storer, a resident of the quiet little community of Guysville in Athens County, was bound over to the U.S. District Court in Columbus Tuesday in a $427,053.95 bank shortage case.

The 37-year-old mother, accompanied by her husband and an attorney, Roger L. Jones Jr. of Athens, appeared before U.S. Commissioner Willard C. Walter here and was freed on $10,000 bond, pending further court action.

Mrs. Storer, who waived a preliminary hearing, is charged with making false entries on the books of the Belpre branch of the Peoples Banking and Trust Co. of Marietta, where she worked for 19 years. She was head bookkeeper.

The shortage, found last Thursday by an FBI audit, was fully covered by insurance, bank officials said. Mrs. Storer was arrested Monday.

The bank said the shortage grew out of check removals and record entries dating back to 1958.

Rites For Thomas Woods To Be Held On Thursday

Requiem Mass will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Ann's Church in Sebring for Thomas M. Woods, 90, of Sebring, a former East Liverpool resident who retired after 27 years as a vice president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Mr. Woods served from 1909 to 1935 as sixth vice president of the NBOP, which later became the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. He died Monday night in the Bel-Air Nursing Home at Alliance following a year's illness.

Born June 12, 1877, in Allegheny, Pa., he was a son of the late Daniel Woods and Catherine McCloskey Woods.

He was a member of St. Ann's Church of Sebring, the Holy Name Society, a charter member of Knights of Columbus 509 of East Livrepool and a past grand knight of the council and honorary member of the IBOP. He served three terms on the Sebring Board of Public Affairs, the playground committee and the Crewson-Woods playground was named for him. He was honored as Sebring's "outstanding man" in 1964.

He was a retired clay shop foreman and personnel manager of the Royal China Co. of Sebring.

Mr. Woods is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Ruff of Alliance, Mrs. Grace Kuniewicz of Alliance and Miss Rose Woods of New York City, secretary to Richard Nixon; two sons, Thomas Woods Jr. of Alliance and Joseph Woods of Oak Park, Chicago, Ill., where he is a sheriff of Cook County; three brothers, Percy Woods of East Liverpool; James Woods of Neville Island, Pa., and John Woods of Lisbon; two sisters, Miss Mary Woods, R.N., of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. Catherine Collins of Nutter Fort, W. Va.; 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. His wife, Mary Woods, died in June.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery, Sebring.

Friends may call at the Vogt-Gednetz Funeral Home in Sebring today after 3 p.m.

United Fund Plans Are Outlined

Four of the United Fund's division chairmen are shown discussing plans for the Oct. 9-21 campaign to raise funds for 15 community agencies.

Left to right are John Jones of the Montgomery Ward Co. and Richard Beatty of the Potters Lumber Co., who will be in charge of business solicitations, and Sidney C. Porter Jr. of Globe Refractories and John C. Thompson of the Hall China Co., co-chairmen of the industrial division.

A goal of $125,000 again has been set for the drive, which is headed by John Starkey and Robert Sauer.

Porter said every industry in the area will be requested to utilize the payroll deduction plan which has been increasingly effective as a convenient contribution means in past years.

"Many firms and their employes have given generous support in previous drives through this method of commutiny support, and it is hoped all area industries will participate this year so our goal can be achieved," Porter and Thompson said.

The business and industrial chairmen are completing appointment of their volunteer workers in preparation for the Oct. 9 kickoff of the drive, which it is hoped will be completed in two weeks.

Pughtown

But, the swift post office action caught the club a little off guard, and a speedup has been called to get the necessary signatures — a majority of the registered voters in the village —for submission to the county court as soon as possible.

One resident says after the turn of the century he wrote to his sweetheart at Pughtown, addressing the letter to the Fairview Post Office.

In 1810, according to Jack Welch writing in his "History of Hancock County," Dr. David Pugh, the great - great - great-great grandfather of Dr. David S. Pugh of Chester, marked off 113 town lots on top of a hill which he owned, and named it New Manchester.

Jones said the New Manchester title was picked because Pugh's descendants came from Manchester, England.

About 1820, under fifth U.S. President, James Monroe, while the area was still within the state of Virginia, a post office was established and called Fairview.

AROUND THE turn of the century, when the department discovered there was another Fairview in West Virginia, east of Clarksburg, which still exists today, the name was changed to Pughtown and the townspeople dubbed the village Pughtown after Peter A. Pugh, then their state senator, according to Mrs. Yvonne Pugh, wife of the present Dr. Pugh.

Pugh, the town's founder, was the son of Hugh and Elizabeth Pugh and a brother of Peter Pugh.

He was a captain in the War of 1812 for about three months, she said.

Mrs. Pugh added, no one knows how he got the title of Doctor.

Jones, however, believes the name of the town never officially was changed to Pughtown, but the club is pursuing action to ensure it soon will be called New Manchester.

Jones points out there is no one named Pugh presently living in the village, although many of Dr. David Pugh's descendants live in the surrounding area.

While there is sentiment against the name switch, Jones said the majority of the residents are in favor of the move.

He added Pughtown's prime attribute is its historical background, no industry or commerce, and by getting the original name reinstated, the Ruritan Club hopes to help preserve its history.

After the petitions are signed, they will go to the County Commissioners, who when they are satisfied the majority is in favor, will change the name.

Jones said Paul Wern is chairman of the club's committee which is spearheading the drive.

Lester Miller is club president.

And so, while residents move closer to their goal, mail sent to Pughtown will be delivered to New Manchester.

Trucks

THE NAILS apparently were hurled from a pedestrian bridge which spans the highway ramp, linking the end of W. 7th St. with the area near Westgate School.

Officers said no truck tires were reported flattened as a result of the incident. Some of the nails were removed from the pavement by escorting officers and the balance were picked up by a street department crew.

A private car was pulled across E. 3rd St. at Broadway shortly before 7 a. m. in an attempt to block another convoy which had moved across the Chester Bridge and was heading west.

Officers ordered the driver to remove the car and he complied.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan filed charges in Eastern Court Tuesday afternoon against three men questioned Monday morning regarding spiked boards on Route 7 at Rogers.

Walter C. Johnston, 38, Lisbon RD 3; James A. Platinus, 25, Petersburg RD 1, and Willian E. Witherstine, 32, West Austintown, are charged with wilfully and maliciously throwing wood and nails from a motor vehicle. All three are truck drivers.

Johnston and Palatinus posted $500 bonds yesterday for arraignment at 2 p.m. Thursday. The sheriff said they told him they will notify Witherstine who is in New York State.

A hearing for five Columbiana County truckers charged carrying concealed weapons in Tuscarawas County has been postponed in County Court at Uhrichsville.

A hearing had been set today for Thomas Bratt, 47, of Valley Ave. and Lester Bratt, 49, of 927 Orchard Grove Ave., East Liverpool, Ronald McGaffick, 28, and Mark Stone, 44, both of Lisbon RD 4, and Robert Harris, 35, of 409 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon.

However, the hearing has been continued at the request of the Prosecutor who is to decide whether the case will be handled as a felony and taken to the Grand Jury or as a misdemeanor.

The five were apprehended Sept. 21 in a car with three hand guns, two "Molotov Cocktails," 170 rounds of ammunition and bricks.

AT PITTSBURGH, tomorrow's meeting is slated to be the first formal session between the truckers and the union leaders in the strike.

Atty. Bernard Berkman said last night at Cleveland the session was set up by Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond Shafer.

A couple of delegates from the Western Pennsylvania branch of the bizarre protest, which has virtually halted the movement of steel over the highways, met with Shafer administration officials earlier Tuesday.

They talked for 4½ hours but wouldn't say what happened. The only statement came from William J. Hart, state secretary of labor and industry.

"We intend to explore this thing until we find a basis for settlement," Hart said. He wouldn't elaborate.

Hart didn't mention a Pittsburgh meeting, nor did anyone else in the governor's office. The sniping, stonings and beatings of truckers who defied the ban on steel hauling were being reported each night.

A BRICK smashed through a windshield of a truck near the Somerset interchange on the Turnpike Tuesday and injured the sleeping driver. Windshields on two other trucks were shattered. Gunshots damaged the transmission of another.

Normally half of the nation's steel is hauled from mills by trucks. An estimated 10,000 drivers who own their rigs have stopped.

Steel is piling up in warehouses and some mills have cut back production, furloughing hundreds of workers.

The truckers, who are members of the Teamsters Union, want a better contract and they blame the union, which is not backing the strike.

The basic demands are a 6 per cent increase, to 79 per cent, in their share of the gross value of each shipment, and pay for time spent waiting to load and unload.

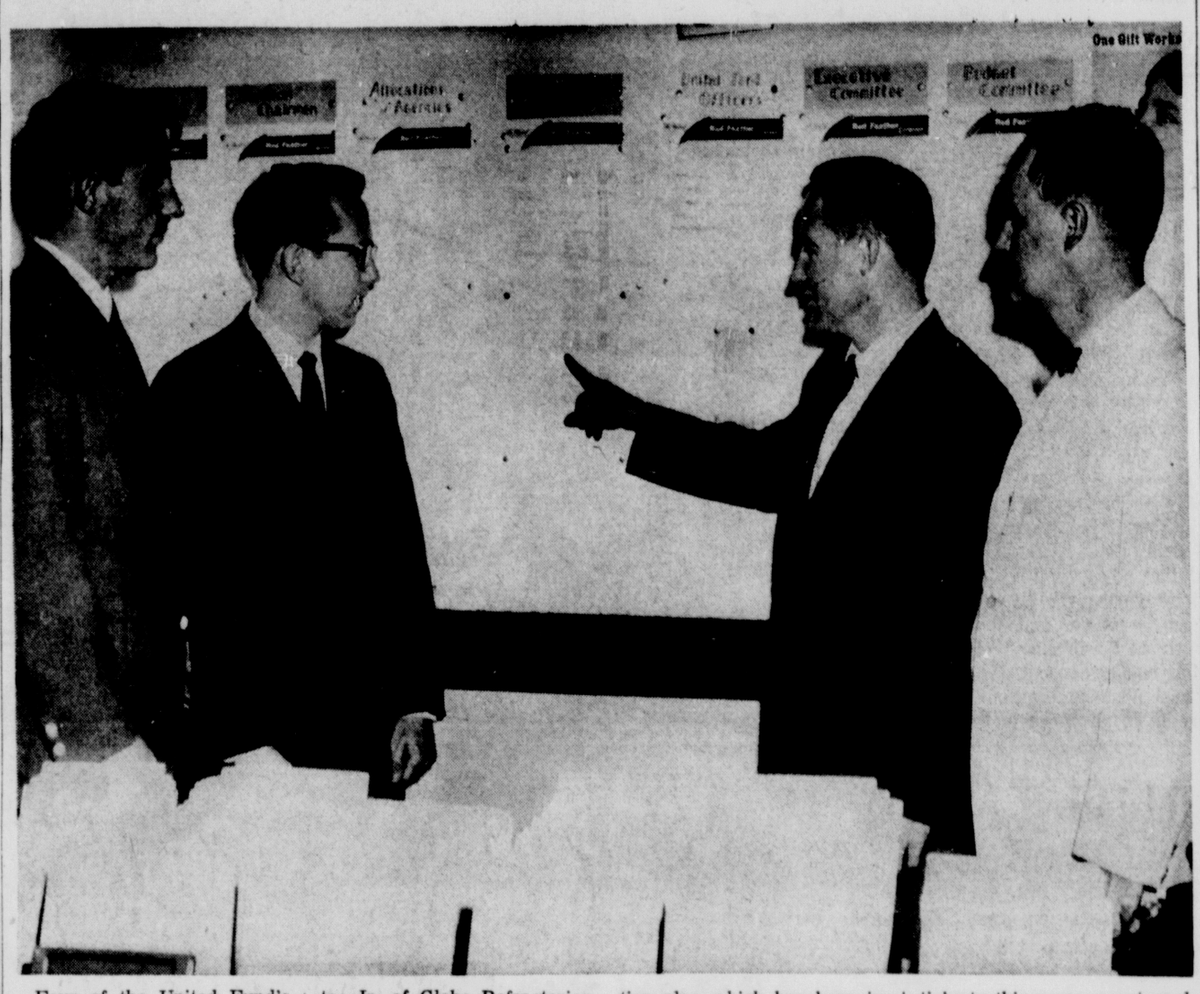
United Fund Plans Are Outlined



Four of the United Fund's division chairmen are shown discussing plans for the Oct. 9-21 campaign to raise funds for 15 community agencies.

Left to right are John Jones of the Montgomery Ward Co. and Richard Beatty of the Potters Lumber Co., who will be in charge of business solicitations, and Sidney C. Porter Jr. of Globe Refractories and John C. Thompson of the Hall China Co., co - chairmen of the industrial division.

A goal of $125,000 again has been set for the drive, which is headed by John Starkey and Robert Sauer.

Porter said every industry in the area will be requested to utilize the payroll deduction plan which has been increasingly effective as a convenient contribution means in past years.

"Many firms and their employes have given generous support in previous drives through this method of commutiny support, and it is hoped all area industries will participate this year so our goal can be achieved," Porter and Thompson said.

The business and industrial chairmen are completing appointment of their volunteer workers in preparation for the Oct. 9 kickoff of the drive, which it is hoped will be completed in two weeks.

But, the swift post office action caught the club a little off guard, and a speedup has been called to get the necessary signatures — a majority of the registered voters in the village —for submission to the county court as soon as possible.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

Foundation Fo r Development

Subdivision regulations — well-planned and in line with the needs of orderly growth—are an essential for the developing community.

They provide the basic guidelines of progress, and standards for real estate building, utilities, streets and highways, sanitation and other property characteristics.

East Liverpool and Columbiana County are about to consider final adoption of such regulations, and action which deserves a full and adequate study — but only to insure that each set of regulations fits the needs of each area.

In each case, the regulations have been prepared through a cooperative effort of government officials, planners and citizens whose single aim is to best serve the community.

Subdivision regulations provide the cornerstone for an effective planning operation which can serve as a springboard for many other effective programs.

Until there are minimum standards for development of our unimproved lands, there are few directions in which planners can work for an efficient growth.

These regulaions are not a stifling of the individual landowners right to use his property any more than the rights to free speech or free press are stifled by the laws of slander and libel; the purpose is only to prevent the exploitation or misuse of those rights.

The time has come to begin implementing the planning for which the city and the county have spent thousands of dollars, invested countless hours of work by government authorities and citizens willing to help prepare for the future.

It is hoped that whatever revisions may be required to improve the effectiveness of these regulations can be made, and the programs adopted as soon as feasible so that this community and this county can put down the foundation for a real planning program and move onward to profitable advances in the near future.

Bad News From Con Thieu

All that was needed to clinch the conviction that U. S. Marines are in a bad military bind in the northern outpost of Con Thien were televised pictures of the monsoon-muddied terrain of that section of Vietnam.

Marine spokesmen deny any similarity between Con Thien and Dien Bien Phu, but denials are to be expected. The fact remains that a large body of U. S. Marines are bearing the most punishing fire the North Vietnamese can rain down on an exposed Marine position in circumstances that could add up to a military disaster.

A Marine spokesman has explained why counter-measures to cut down the rate of fire from enemy gun emplacements have not worked. The advantage in this is in all other ground tactics in Vietnam lies with the enemy.

Gun emplacements are invulnerable to aerial attack, because bombs would have to be dropped with pinpoint precision to destroy the guns, which are well concealed and deep in the ground.

The Marines, on the other hand, are desperately trying to dig in under fire, and their casualties have been so heavy it has been deemed necessary by the Pentagon to hold back casualty reports in day-to-day combat.

It is another demonstration of the tremendous impact of on-the-scene reporting of the Vietnam War. Not only are correspondents where the action is but television crews are there with them, making it possible for civilians to see color pictures of the misery and agony of battle.

Con Thien may not be Dien Bien Phu. But while Con Thien is making news so dolorous the Pentagon thinks it must be "managed" to minimize its impact would be a poor time for the United States to wonder if North Vietnam is ready to surrender.

Hanoi must wonder if the United States isn't ready to ask for terms when its overservers report the long-range damage being done to the Marine outpost at Con Thien.

Dealing With Castro Menace

A strong campaign by U.S. diplomats to blacklist non-Communist firms doing business in Cuba failed to gain approval of the Organization of American States but did result in a vote for sanctions against some shippers.

Under the agreement, non-Communist vessels going to Cuba will be denied fueling facilities in Latin American ports and will receive no government-financed cargoes.

The United States already has provisions of the agreement in effect.

The new OAS recommendation is not mandatory but diplomats feel Latin American states will follow the proposal to curb trade by England, France and Spain with Cuba which is a growing threat to its neighbors.

There was a unanimous vote in support of the resolution to "to condemn forcefull" Fidel Castro's regime for "repeated intervention and aggression" in Venezuela, Bolivia and other hemisphere countries.

Foreign ministers attending the OA meeting want to ostracize Castro but do not want to offend non-Communist nations they are trading with.

However, the growing menace of Castro-fired insurrection in the Americas cannot be ignored forever.

If non-Communst nations refuse to take the hint contained in the sanctions vote, the ministers will be forced to take stronger measures.

U.S. Teachers Are Marching

By Bruce Boissat

The teachers' revolt is probably going to be worse next year than it is now, so we might as well try to understand it.

There are about 600,000 more teachers on the scene today in public schools than there were a bit more than a decade ago. This increase of 50 per cent gives them the strength of real numbers (1.8 million), and they are minded to use it.

Schoolteaching is no longer the special province of twittering young things and middle-aged ladies. Nearly a third of public schoolteachers are men today, and a high proportion of these are married and have children.

Young men with heavy economic burdens account for much of the militancy that has crept into the teaching field — but not all of it. An education source says a careful look at teacher picket lines invariably discloses a healthy sprinkling of lady veterans who seem fed up with conditions.

The big complaint is really a double one: Teachers are supposed to comprise a profession, yet for the most part they have neither the money nor the social status they believe go with professional status.

THEY ARE surpassed in average annual earnings by doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects, engineers, scientists, accountants, chemists, osteopaths, veterinarians, optometrists, foresters.

Being thus disadvantaged relative to other professionals, many seek outside sources of income. — especially in summer-time — to ease their burdens. But most teachers do not make enough extra each year to help very much.

Public school teachers' average annual salaries today hover near the $7.000 mark. The regional range is considerable, with California highest at $8,450 and Mississippi lowest at $4,-650.

In the 10 years 1957-67, these salaries rose more than 60 per cent in dollar terms. But, when corrected for changes in buying power, the gain amounted to 40 per cent.

Proportionate to gains in other occupations, the advance was impressive. Yet it has to be remembered that the teachers were coming from far back.

They still are not close to being even with those they regard as their professional competitors.

Many educators would say, however, that the status problem bites very deep with teachers. This is a country that has never quite lived down the old sneer? "Those who can, do; those who can't, teach."

SOME ANALYSTS believe that more than a little of militancy which shows itself in strikes, picket lines, confrontatons and other evdences of aggressive teacher behavior is the response of the aggrieved person seeking higher status and recognition.

Teachers have other things on their minds — the need for modernizing methods, for dealing better with disruptive, disoriented pupils, for getting and really using improved equipment.

But argument over these problems likely would not be acute if they had money and status. They do not make much more than factory workers, yet they are expected to act with the decorum of college presidents and do nothing so unseemly as strike.

Convincing them of this will be harder each year. They know education is huge business today, and they want a much larger slice.

U.S. public schools now consume nearly $30 billion a year. Some 40 per cent of all state and local government expenditures across the country are for education. These outlays are rising steadily.

If teachers do not get the disproportionate part of this increase they believe they merit, then it is pretty plain they will be back on the firing line in 1968.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

So you want to know a perfect example of what is called "camp." Well, sir, a perfect example of "camp" is a large rock that has been turned into an ornamental feature by a coat of shiny aluminum paint. That's "camp.."

If I had only one lifetime to spend enjoying jelly, I'd choose grape. Second choice, elderberry. First choice in preserves; cherry. Second choice: Red raspberry.

I never wanted to own a convertible and never enjoyed riding in them, but I could get excited about the wrinkle that is going to force convertibles into oblivion—auto air conditioning.

Vacation over. If it had lasted longer, the Twillery dogs would have been exhausted. For them, it was a whole month of Sundays . . . something going on every day.

Pilot And Co-Pilot

VICTOR RIESEL

Teachers Strike Showdown

NEW YORK: — The precedent - smashing teachers' strike may not do for Nelson A. Rockefeller what a police strike did for a vintage Republican known as Calvin Collidge. But the school stoppage was a story with a built-in sleeper crisis which will project the Governor into the national spotlight in a new tougher role.

Victor Riesel

The walkout broke the brand new no-strike law entitled the Public Employes' Fair Employment Act. And Governor Rockefeller — through a state board — will say that 50,000 teachers can be wrong. They violated a state statute forbidding public strikes.

And there will be no amnesty.

The United Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) will not be forgiven as the Transport Workers Union was when it paralyzed this city's gargantuan transit system early last year.

But can a union really be punished for striking?

Most union chiefs just don't believe this could happen here. A few days in jail means little. The martyrdom is worth it. During the big subway strike of '66, this column was the first to reveal that the transit workers leaders actually insisted on staying in the county hoosegow, when City Hall passed on word they could be released — and at the very least, autos would be dispatched to bring them down to the Mayor's chambers for intimate talks.

But that was pre-PERB — the new Public Employment Relations Board, which virtually all major labor leaders are now watching closely. The board was skillfully created by an erudite trio of labor specialists — the gentle Dave Cole, the ivory-towered George Taylor, and Harvard's peppery strategist, John Dunlop.

Built into it is the power to hit a guilty union right in the solar plexus, which in the world of labor is the pocketbook, the treasury. And not by fining it alone. But by the hardest of blows, the denial of the right to an automatic dues checkoff.

UNDER THE CHECKOFF system, in the case of the New York teachers union, the city, through the Board of Education, simply withholds the $5-a-month dues from each of the 50,000 instructors and passes it on to the union. In effect, the city, or any employer, thus services the labor organizations' headquarters.

The law, as written by Cole and his colleagues, gives PERB the absolute mandate to move against the union if it breaks state rules. Thus PERB now is seeking to determine first if there really was a strike, secondly, if it was forced by undue provocation by the Board of Education, and thirdly, if the union is guilty, how it shall be punished.

Gov. Rockefeller nursed this act. He will insist on action. Obviously there was a strike. Obviously the Board did not provoke it. Obviously PERB now will have to determine how to make the punishment fit the "crime."

It is a safe prediction that PERB will decide to suspend the automatic dues checkoff. This suspension could force the union to collect its own dues from 50,000 members in the most sprawling of educational systems — for as long as 18 months.

This could cost the union hundreds of thousands of dollars. But there's more. At the end of the dues checkoff suspension period, the union through its officers must take an oath that it will not again sponsor, support, encourage or lead a strike.

What self-respecting labor leader could do that? Without the strike threat in his hand, he's like gin and tonic without the gin. But the law is the law and the Governor and his board are determined to avoid killing it before the ink on it dries. It took effect Sept. 1. The union deliberately flouted it.

But there is more here than duel between labor's avant-garde and a State Board.

THE DUES CHECKOFF is American labor's most sacred possession. To some national unions this means corporations annually pass on as much as $55 million in union dues — taken right from employes' payrolls. It is the difference between being a major force and being the weak central "head offices" of European labor. It is this difference which enables them to put platoons of organizers in the field; computers for membership pensions and services into the major offices; political action committees into the precincts; lobbyists into the halls of Congress. It is what makes it possible to maintain as many as 700 national office field men and keep them on the move across the land.

So, inside labor, the leaders and their technicians are keeping a death watch on this development. Denial of the checkoff could set a precedent some day in the private as well as the public sector.

But the teachers' federation chose to make the issue. They have left the Governor no leeway. And the issue now is: can a union deliberately defy the law and not expect the authorities to attempt to take action? If this is true then what will the state, county or municipality do when the transit strike looms again in a few weeks?

No one denies that Nelson Rockefeller is a friend of the labor movement. But he is also the governor of all the people.

So the issue is joined — not alone for New Yorkers but for the public everywhere.

More 'Enemies'

If press dispatches and radio and television were suddenly to broadcast the news that the Soviet Union had "declared war" on the United States, this would be regarded as a sensational development.

The equivalent came last Saturday and, as far as can be observed, there was no significant reaction.

United Press International carried the following dispatch on Sept. 23:

"The Soviet Union announced today a big program for delivering MIG jet fighter planes, antiaircraft rockets and other war materiel to North Vietnam in 1968. No figures were given, but the schedule was believed to be a sharp step-up in Russian military aid to Hanoi. The current level of Soviet aid is estimated at one billion dollars."

A spokesman for the State Department commented:

"WE HAVE NOTED the Soviet statement concerning military aid to North Vietnam. We regret that the Soviet Union does not, instead, take action which would assist the search for a peaceful and honorable solution to the Vietnam problem."

The realistic fact is that the Soviet Union is, in effect, a co-belligerent in the war in Vietnam. Russian munitions already are being used to kill American soldiers, and larger quantities are to be supplied next year for the same purpose.

Up to now, the Soviets had not officially admitted their participation in the Vietnam War. The communique issued last Saturday marks the first time the Kremlin has formally stated it was sending planes, rockets, and other war materiel to North Vietnam, though the Soviet press frequently has hinted at it.

The agreement was signed a few days ago at Moscow by the deputy premier of North Vietnam and the deputy premier of the Soviet Union.

With the possible exception of some technicians or advisers, there are today no Soviet troops fighting with the North Vietnamese army. So, for all practical purposes, the Soviet Union is withholding manpower support but is furnishing the munitions and armament to carry on war against United States forces.

This is not a new form of participation in war by the Soviet government. In 1950, the Moscow regime supplied arms and munitions to the Red Chinese for their invasion of South Korea and at a United Nations meeting defiantly admitted having done so..

In Korea, the United Nations itself had mobilized an army to repel the aggression. But the Soviet government treated the U.N. Charter with contempt and continued to furnish military assistance despite a formal resolution adopted by the U.N. General Assembly condemning Red China as an aggressor.

THE UNITED States has the right once more to demand in the United Nations that the Soviet Union refrain from assisting an aggressor country.

But even more important is the possible exercise by the American government of commercial and economic powers to persuade the Soviet Union that it has embarked upon a wrong policy. If an economic embargo against the Soviet Union as well as its captive nations in Eastern Europe were proclaimed, there would begin to be a realization in Moscow of the dangers of the course it is pursuing in the Vietnam War.

Official admission by Russia that it is supplying military aid to the North Vietnamese certainly brings up again the question of whether the United States should consider a "declaration of a state of war" so belligerent ships may be intercepted under international law and delivery of war materials into North Vietnam interdicted.

For if America intends to vindicate the policy it has followed in Southeast Asia, it will have to recognize formally that not only the Soviet Union but also Red China are enemies of the United States in the Vietnam War.

Foundation Fo r Development

Subdivision regulations — well-planned and in line with the needs of orderly growth—are an essential for the developing community.

They provide the basic guidelines of progress, and standards for real estate building, utilities, streets and highways, sanitation and other property characteristics.

East Liverpool and Columbiana County are about to consider final adoption of such regulations, and action which deserves a full and adequate study — but only to insure that each set of regulations fits the needs of each area.

In each case, the regulations have been prepared through a cooperative effort of government officials, planners and citizens whose single aim is to best serve the community.

Subdivision regulations provide the cornerstone for an effective planning operation which can serve as a springboard for many other effective programs.

Until there are minimum standards for development of our unimproved lands, there are few directions in which planners can work for an efficient growth.

These regulaions are not a stifling of the individual landowners right to use his property any more than the rights to free speech or free press are stifled by the laws of slander and libel; the purpose is only to prevent the exploitation or misuse of those rights.

The time has come to begin implementing the planning for which the city and the county have spent thousands of dollars, invested countless hours of work by government authorities and citizens willing to help prepare for the future.

It is hoped that whatever revisions may be required to improve the effectiveness of these regulations can be made, and the programs adopted as soon as feasible so that this community and this county can put down the foundation for a real planning program and move onward to profitable advances in the near future.

Bad News From Con Thieu

All that was needed to clinch the conviction that U. S. Marines are in a bad military bind in the northern outpost of Con Thien were televised pictures of the monsoon-muddied terrain of that section of Vietnam.

Marine spokesmen deny any similarity between Con Thien and Dien Bien Phu, but denials are to be expected. The fact remains that a large body of U. S. Marines are bearing the most punishing fire the North Vietnamese can rain down on an exposed Marine position in circumstances that could add up to a military disaster.

A Marine spokesman has explained why counter-measures to cut down the rate of fire from enemy gun emplacements have not worked. The advantage in this is in all other ground tactics in Vietnam lies with the enemy.

Gun emplacements are invulnerable to aerial attack, because bombs would have to be dropped with pinpoint precision to destroy the guns, which are well concealed and deep in the ground.

The Marines, on the other hand, are desperately trying to dig in under fire, and their casualties have been so heavy it has been deemed necessary by the Pentagon to hold back casualty reports in day-to-day combat.

It is another demonstration of the tremendous impact of on-the-scene reporting of the Vietnam War. Not only are correspondents where the action is but television crews are there with them, making it possible for civilians to see color pictures of the misery and agony of battle.

Con Thien may not be Dien Bien Phu. But while Con Thien is making news so dolorous the Pentagon thinks it must be "managed" to minimize its impact would be a poor time for the United States to wonder if North Vietnam is ready to surrender.

Hanoi must wonder if the United States isn't ready to ask for terms when its overservers report the long-range damage being done to the Marine outpost at Con Thien.

Dealing With Castro Menace

A strong campaign by U.S. diplomats to blacklist non-Communist firms doing business in Cuba failed to gain approval of the Organization of American States but did result in a vote for sanctions against some shippers.

Under the agreement, non-Communist vessels going to Cuba will be denied fueling facilities in Latin American ports and will receive no government-financed cargoes.

The United States already has provisions of the agreement in effect.

The new OAS recommendation is not mandatory but diplomats feel Latin American states will follow the proposal to curb trade by England, France and Spain with Cuba which is a growing threat to its neighbors.

There was a unanimous vote in support of the resolution to "to condemn forcefull" Fidel Castro's regime for "repeated intervention and aggression" in Venezuela, Bolivia and other hemisphere countries.

Foreign ministers attending the OA meeting want to ostracize Castro but do not want to offend non-Communist nations they are trading with.

However, the growing menace of Castro-fired insurrection in the Americas cannot be ignored forever.

If non-Communst nations refuse to take the hint contained in the sanctions vote, the ministers will be forced to take stronger measures.

U.S. Teachers Are Marching

By Bruce Boissat

The teachers' revolt is probably going to be worse next year than it is now, so we might as well try to understand it.

There are about 600,000 more teachers on the scene today in public schools than there were a bit more than a decade ago. This increase of 50 per cent gives them the strength of real numbers (1.8 million), and they are minded to use it.

Schoolteaching is no longer the special province of twittering young things and middle-aged ladies. Nearly a third of public schoolteachers are men today, and a high proportion of these are married and have children.

Young men with heavy economic burdens account for much of the militancy that has crept into the teaching field — but not all of it. An education source says a careful look at teacher picket lines invariably discloses a healthy sprinkling of lady veterans who seem fed up with conditions.

The big complaint is really a double one: Teachers are supposed to comprise a profession, yet for the most part they have neither the money nor the social status they believe go with professional status.

THEY ARE surpassed in average annual earnings by doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects, engineers, scientists, accountants, chemists, osteopaths, veterinarians, optometrists, foresters.

Being thus disadvantaged relative to other professionals, many seek outside sources of income. — especially in summer-time — to ease their burdens. But most teachers do not make enough extra each year to help very much.

Public school teachers' average annual salaries today hover near the $7.000 mark. The regional range is considerable, with California highest at $8,450 and Mississippi lowest at $4,-650.

In the 10 years 1957-67, these salaries rose more than 60 per cent in dollar terms. But, when corrected for changes in buying power, the gain amounted to 40 per cent.

Proportionate to gains in other occupations, the advance was impressive. Yet it has to be remembered that the teachers were coming from far back.

They still are not close to being even with those they regard as their professional competitors.

Many educators would say, however, that the status problem bites very deep with teachers. This is a country that has never quite lived down the old sneer? "Those who can, do; those who can't, teach."

SOME ANALYSTS believe that more than a little of militancy which shows itself in strikes, picket lines, confrontatons and other evdences of aggressive teacher behavior is the response of the aggrieved person seeking higher status and recognition.

Teachers have other things on their minds — the need for modernizing methods, for dealing better with disruptive, disoriented pupils, for getting and really using improved equipment.

But argument over these problems likely would not be acute if they had money and status. They do not make much more than factory workers, yet they are expected to act with the decorum of college presidents and do nothing so unseemly as strike.

Convincing them of this will be harder each year. They know education is huge business today, and they want a much larger slice.

U.S. public schools now consume nearly $30 billion a year. Some 40 per cent of all state and local government expenditures across the country are for education. These outlays are rising steadily.

If teachers do not get the disproportionate part of this increase they believe they merit, then it is pretty plain they will be back on the firing line in 1968.

So you want to know a perfect example of what is called "camp." Well, sir, a perfect example of "camp" is a large rock that has been turned into an ornamental feature by a coat of shiny aluminum paint. That's "camp..'

If I had only one lifetime to spend enjoying jelly, I'd choose grape. Second choice, elderberry. First choice in preserves; cherry. Second choice: Red raspberry.

I never wanted to own a convertible and never enjoyed riding in them, but I could get excited about the wrinkle that is going to force convertibles into oblivion—auto air conditioning.

Vacation over. If it had lasted longer, the Twillery dogs would have been exhausted. For them, it was a whole month of Sundays . . . something going on every day.

Teachers Strike Showdown

NEW YORK: — The precedent - smashing teachers' strike may not do for Nelson A. Rockefeller what a police strike did for a vintage Republican known as Calvin Collidge. But the school stoppage was a story with a built-in sleeper crisis which will project the Governor into the national spotlight in a new tougher role.

Victor Riesel

The walkout broke the brand new no-strike law entitled the Public Employes' Fair Employment Act. And Governor Rockefeller — through a state board — will say that 50,000 teachers can be wrong. They violated a state statute forbidding public strikes.

And there will be no amnesty.

The United Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) will not be forgiven as the Transport Workers Union was when it paralyzed this city's gargantuan transit system early last year.

But can a union really be punished for striking?

Most union chiefs just don't believe this could happen here. A few days in jail means little. The martyrdom is worth it. During the big subway strike of '66, this column was the first to reveal that the transit workers leaders actually insisted on staying in the county hoosegow, when City Hall passed on word they could be released — and at the very least, autos would be dispatched to bring them down to the Mayor's chambers for intimate talks.

But that was pre-PERB — the new Public Employment Relations Board, which virtually all major labor leaders are now watching closely. The board was skillfully created by an erudite trio of labor specialists — the gentle Dave Cole, the ivory-towered George Taylor, and Harvard's peppery strategist, John Dunlop.

Built into it is the power to hit a guilty union right in the solar plexus, which in the world of labor is the pocketbook, the treasury. And not by fining it alone. But by the hardest of blows, the denial of the right to an automatic dues checkoff.

Mrs. Billie Fisher of 301 Carolina Ave., Maplewood, returned home Sunday from City Hospital.

Cynthia Jane Hawthorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hawthorne of 3282 Harriett St., is a patient at Osteopathic Hospital, where she is undergoing observation after a fall at school.

Admitted to Rochester General Hospital were Mrs. Margaret Barr and Edward Williams of East Liverpool, Mrs. Elizabath Chopoff and Rawson Hurst of Midland and Edwin Hill and Edward Summers of Industry. Discharged were Mrs. Ruth Baughman of East Liverpool, Dennis Cataldo of Wellsville, Mrs. Ruth Felekey of Midland and Mrs. Eleanor Kelly of Industry.

The Japanese highly prize rocks as decorations. A wealthy man may pay as much as $4,000 for one with an interesting shape or color.

A Bloomin' Mystery!

The weather even has some flowers mixed up. If you don't believe it, just ask Mrs. William Alger of Georgetown, who has a night blooming cereus that bloomed during the day.

The plant, which is supposed to bloom only at night, produced a beautiful full bloom Saturday during the day. Mrs. Alger believes it was because of the cold weather Friday night.

The large white flower is tinged with pink on the outside and has hundreds of thin, wispy strings and a star hanging from the center. The bloom appears to come directly out of a leaf of the plant, which is about four feet tall, and gives the appearance of a tropical flower.

Mrs. Alger has had the plant for 15 years. It is supposed to be seven years old to bloom and at one time she became disgusted and was ready to throw it away.

But, her patience has paid off and she has enjoyed nine blooms this fall.

Scouts Receive Awards

These three youths were presented Boy Scout "God and Country Awards" at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church Sunday, the first such presentation of the award to a member of that church.

Tom Dailey, left, Daryl Seckman, center, and Randy Seckman are members of Troop 59, sponsored by the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church.

Dailey and Randy Seckman are Life Scouts and Daryl is an Eagle Scout. They were introduced by Scoutmaster William Betteridge.

The Scout promise was recited by Randy Seckman and the Scout law by Dailey. The Rev. Richard Shipley, under whose guidance the award was achieved, presented the medals to each boy, reviewing the nature of the study and service projects in which they had been engaged during the past year. The program is administered by the National Protestant Committee on Scouting. A letter from the Board of Christian Education of the denomination commending the recipients was read before the congregation.

Appreciation for the help of all who make Scouting possible was expressed by Daryl Seckman, a second - year student at Grove City College. He introduced the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dailey Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Seckman of the Old Fredericktown Rd., who were presented miniatures of the award in acknowledgement of their contributions to this accomplishment.

The pastor's sermon was based on the Scout motto, "Be Prepared!"

the Johnson administration's patience in its efforts for price restraint.

Crucible's increase came two weeks to the day after administration leaders urged the big steel companies to hold the price line in the national interest.

There has been no word from Washington on the latest hike.

Some 13 key steel executives met in Washington Sept. 12 and heard Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge's plea for wage and price moderation.

The administration, however, neither asked for nor received any pledge on prices.

The executive cited rising costs, skimpy profits and growing steel imports in its need for price relief.

Since Aug. 1 the industry has raised prices on about a third of industrywide shipments.

In raising its prices, Crucible cited "continuing cost pressures," including an increase two weeks ago in the price of nickel, which is vital to the production of stainless steel.

The nickel price hike could add as much as $15 to the cost of producing a ton of stainless steel, currently selling for between $600 and $700 a ton.

Crucible's increase covers nickel and chromium—bearing stainless steel bar, sheet and strip products used primarily in household appliances, automotive and architectural trim and in the chemical and petroleum industries.

Average water and sewage bills in Wellsville total $8-10 a quarter. Some owners are up to 10 years delinquent, O'Hara said, and amounts range up to "several hundred dollars."

Under law the property owner is liable for the amount. If he bought property which had outstanding water bills, he is responsible, as is the case if he rented to tenants who defaulted on the bills.

Following certification, all property sales in Wellsville will have to get a clearance from the county auditor's office stating there is no water department money owed.

For this service the auditor's office receives 3 per cent of any monies collected, Bell explained. He said his office will notify each taxpayer as the bills are certified and before the county treasurer is ordered to issue the bill.

Assistant City Solicitor William Telzrow and Ralph Grafton of the Wellsville Water Department have been locating parcel numbers in the transfer office as the certification action draws closer.

Bell said his office is granted this procedure in assisting municipalities with the collection of sewer and water bills or other special assessments.

Youth Cited In Ohioville Auto Mishap

A city youth was charged following a three - car Beaver County accident in which total damage was estimated at $5,000 Tuesday at 9:25 p. m. on a gravel road off Route 168 near Five Points.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said Keith Johnston, 17, son of Harold Johnston of 1253 LaCroft Ave., has been charged with reckless operation and "endangering life in the borough."

The Chief said Johnston was traveling at a high rate of speed and lost control of his 1959 sedan while descending a hill. The vehicle slid on the grave, and struck a parked 1967 compact owned by Ronnie Visnick of Meadowbrook Estates.

The station wagon was parked in front of the Rice home. The three cars then came to rest against a tree in the Rice yard.

A telephone pole was knocked down, disrupting service and cutting electric power. The Duquesne Light Co. made repairs, but the telephone service was out the entire evening.

Passengers in the Johnston car were Danny Joe Green, son of Mrs. Ruth Green of 625 St. Clair Ave., and Daniel Beagle of East Liverpool, both hitchhikers. Their car had a flat tire, and they had been picked up by Johnston about a mile from the scene of the accident. There also were two other youths in the car, officers said.

Court Suspends Driver's Permit

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald of County Southwest Court suspended the driver's license of Walter Ziegler, Hanoverton R. D. 1, for six months Tuesday for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also fined Ziegler $150 and costs and sentenced him to seven days in the County Jail. Ziegler also pleaded guilty to another charge—being found in a state of intoxication —and was ordered to pay $5

Others fined were:

Richard A. Hall, East Liverpool RD 2, driving too fast for road conditions, $20 and costs; Thomas F. Lucas, Lisbon RD 1, same, $10 and costs; John Van B. Humphrey, Canfield, stop sign violation, $15 and costs, and Alvah R. Campbell, Alliance, failure to obey traffic signal, $10 and costs.

Gerald A. Broadwater, Republic, charged with passing on a hill, and Glenn E. Gowins, New Philadelphia, cited for speeding, forfeited appearance bonds of $20 each.

Youth Cited In Ohioville Auto Mishap

A city youth was charged following a three - car Beaver County accident in which total damage was estimated at $5,000 Tuesday at 9:25 p. m. on a gravel road off Route 168 near Five Points.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said Keith Johnston, 17, son of Harold Johnston of 1253 LaCroft Ave., has been charged with reckless operation and "endangering life in the borough."

The Chief said Johnston was traveling at a high rate of speed and lost control of his 1959 sedan while descending a hill. The vehicle slid on the grave, and struck a parked 1967 compact owned by Ronnie Visnick of Meadowbrook Estates.

The station wagon was parked in front of the Rice home. The three cars then came to rest against a tree in the Rice yard.

A telephone pole was knocked down, disrupting service and cutting electric power. The Duquesne Light Co. made repairs, but the telephone service was out the entire evening.

Passengers in the Johnston car were Danny Joe Green, son of Mrs. Ruth Green of 625 St. Clair Ave., and Daniel Beagle of East Liverpool, both hitchhikers. Their car had a flat tire, and they had been picked up by Johnston about a mile from the scene of the accident. There also were two other youths in the car, officers said.

Court Suspends Driver's Permit

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald of County Southwest Court suspended the driver's license of Walter Ziegler, Hanoverton R. D. 1, for six months Tuesday for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also fined Ziegler $150 and costs and sentenced him to seven days in the County Jail. Ziegler also pleaded guilty to another charge—being found in a state of intoxication —and was ordered to pay $5

Others fined were:

Richard A. Hall, East Liverpool RD 2, driving too fast for road conditions, $20 and costs; Thomas F. Lucas, Lisbon RD 1, same, $10 and costs; John Van B. Humphrey, Canfield, stop sign violation, $15 and costs, and Alvah R. Campbell, Alliance, failure to obey traffic signal, $10 and costs.

Gerald A. Broadwater, Republic, charged with passing on a hill, and Glenn E. Gowins, New Philadelphia, cited for speeding, forfeited appearance bonds of $20 each.

threatening him with a gun. When officers arrived, the man, later identified as Allen Frantz of Center Township, had left and gone to another home about a block away.

He entered the second home, brandished the gun and then left to return to the first dwelling. Frantz saw the police cruiser and walked to a truck parked nearby. Inside was his estranged wife, Jane Frantz.

Officers said Frantz took something from his pocket and put it inside the truck. He and his wife were placed under arrest, but a search of the truck failed to reveal any gun.

En route to the justice of the peace office, one of the officers noticed the woman put something under the seat of the cruiser.

The gun was located and taken into the office. The clip was removed from the .25-caliber automatic and Storar suggested someone check the chamber.

Patrolman Joy picked up the gun and said he was in the process of placing it back on the desk when it discharged. The bullet passed through his hand and struck Hoko in the left abdomen.

Hoko was just coming through the door of the office at the time. He had not been involved in the case up until that time.

The couple is being held at Beaver County Jail on charges of violation of the uniform firearm act. Frantz also has been charged with pointing a dangerous weapon.

According to reports, Nagy pulled his gun and fired at the men. No one knew how many shots were fired.

Police were waiting for tests on the bullet removed from Ravnell's stomach to determine if it matches the make of any found the scene of the first shooting.

Authorities were unable to find any identification on Ravnell.

The amount of money Nagy was carrying was not disclosed. Reports varied as to whether any was taken in the scuffle.

According to some, $15,000 was taken, but Chief Frankovitch labeled the case an attempted robbery.

At the hospital, officials hurriedly were attempting to obtain permission for an officer to remain with Ravnell during surgery.

Episcopal Representatives 'On Fence' About Viet War

SEATTLE (AP) — Episcopal representatives today were on the fence about the Vietnam war.

"Neither dove nor hawk," one delegate put it.

They argued about it half the night, on the eve of the close of their 11-day governing convention, and wound up with a down-the-middle resolution saying they could "not agree among ourselves."

"Dedicated persons, including Christians, differ about the war in Vietnam, about the wisdom and morality of our nation's involvement," they said.

There also were differences put forward in reaching that conclusion in the House of Deputies, the lay-clergy branch of the two-house legislature for 3.5 million Episcopalians.

The result, as John W. Church, of Hinsdale, Ill., described it, was neither "yea" nor "nay".

The House of Bishops still had to decide whether to go along with the deputies in the matter, before the convention closes today.

In their three-hour night session, the deputies overwhelmingly turned down a statement that would have called for a halt to the American bombing of North Vietnam and de-escalation.

They just as firmly rejected proposals giving blanket support to U.S. policy and voicing full confidence in the President and his advisors.

Tuesday Bishop James A. Pike abandoned his demand for a heresy trial after fellow bishops established safeguards against such prosecutions.

They also provided for "due process," assuring the right to self-defense, in any future action to censure a bishop—a right Bishop Pike claims he didn't have when censured by the bishops last fall for challenging some church doctrine.

"I feel completely vindicated," he said.

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Pittsburgh area teacher who was fired when her pregnancy became known got a hearing before the State Department of Public Instruction Monday.

Neil B. Musmanno, assistant commissioner for basic education, who conducted the three-hour hearing, gave attorneys for Mrs. Hill and her former employer until Oct. 21 to file additional briefs. A decision will be handed down after that.

Mrs. Hill was dismissed from her post as elementary music teacher by the Chartiers Valley School District last year. She had become pregnant in March, 1966, while on a sabbatical leave for an advance degree.

Battle Of Con Thien

Drives Home Lessons Learned In War II, Korea

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veteran U.S. officers say the battle of Con Thien is driving home again lessons learned in World War II and Korea: Massive airpower and big gun power have only limited effect in silencing a dug-in enemy.

These officers, many of whom saw action in both earlier wars, said the only way to do the job is to send in infantry to root out enemy batteries burrowed into holes and caves.

Current U. S. policy forbids any U.S. infantry attacks across the border into North Vietnam, from which most of the Communist artillery fire is aimed at Con Thien.

U.S. sources said the North Vietnamese have arrayed between 75 and 125 artillery pieces north of the Ben Hai River boundary.

These Soviet-designed guns, ranging from 85 to 152 millimeters, have been pounding the U.S. Marine outpost, some 2½ miles south of the demilitarized zone, for nearly a month.

U.S. batteries have fired as many as 10,000 shells at the North Vietnamese guns in a single day.

This was 10 times as many as the North Vietnamese guns were throwing at Con Thien.

In addition, waves of U.S. bombers and fighter bombers dumped 600,000 pounds of high explosive on enemy positions.

The American officers said it appears the Communists wheel their artillery out of caves and tunnels to fire, and then probably roll them back in under cover.

In addition, Communist mortars ranging from 60 millimeter to 120 millimeter weapons, fire into the outpost from positions inside South Vietnam, west and south of Con Thien. These mortars are believed dug into deep holes.

Experts said American shells and bombs would have to score direct hits or near bursts to collapse the caves, tunnels and holes from which the Communists are pumping rounds into the Marine outpost.

The Communist artillery and mortars are believed highly mobile, so that they probably are shifted from position to position after bursts of fire. This makes them hard to hit, too.

So far as is known here, the Communist positions for the most part are not reinforced with concrete, but may be shored up with timber.

The Marines have available to them a new Army-produced mobile radar designed to detect the positions of mortars and other high angle weapons such as howitzers.

The specifications say these mortars can locate a position with an accuracy of about 160 feet at a range up to about six miles.

But officers acknowledge that the radar has limitations, in that it emits a relatively narrow beam and must be pointed in the direction from which the enemy's fire comes in order to spot the trajectory and plot it back to the mortar or howitzer position.

There is a difference in opinion among U.S. military men here as to how severely the American air and artillery barrage may be punishing the North Vietnamese gunners and mortar men.

One U.S. Army artillery authority said the North Vietnamese "have to be suffering tremendously."

He said he considers "remarkable that they are willing to take heavy losses in people and guns and keep on with their shelling."

But other Americans who remember World War II and Korea dispute the belief that the enemy is being badly bloodied.

"I ran into this kind of thing on Iwo Jima and Okinawa," said one Marine officer.

Sheriff Investigates Ransacking Of Home

The Thomas Carnegie residence on Dresden Ave. Ext. was ransacked Tuesday evening during the family's absence and a clock radio, rings and meat from a freezer were stolen.

Reporting the burglary to the sheriff's office at 9:48 P.M., Carnegie said he saw someone leave by the window as he came home. The house was unlocked. Sheriff's Deputy Dave Brothers investigated.

Experts Cite Pesticide In Poison Deaths

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — The death toll of Tijuana's mass poisoning mounted today as scientists said a pesticide found in bread may be the killer.

The pesticide, parathion, was blamed tentatively by seven U.S. chemists working at Sacramento, Calif. A spokesman said enough poison was found to kill children but not adults.

The dead—whose numbers as given by officials varied from 14 to 34—were almost all children.

The report of 34 dead came late Tuesday from Pedro Mireles Malpica, district federal attorney general. In Mexico City, the attorney general's office said it had learned officially of 18 dead.

In addition, about 250 others were being treated at hospitals and clinics.

"The people, they keep coming. We do all we can, but there are too many," said Dr. Jorge Salas of the Red Cross clinic.

The disclosure that parathion had been discovered in bread brought release of 19 dairy officials and street milk vendors held for questioning since Monday. A ban on milk was lifted, and residents of Tijuana stopped boiling their drinking water.

Fred Roth, chief of the residual pesticide laboratory of California's Department of Agriculture, said he and six other chemists found parathion in the stomachs of two of the stricken children.

An amount of parathion smaller than an aspirin tablet would kill an average sized man, Roth said. It is widely used in agriculture, particularly on vegetable crops.

It was theorized that the liquid pesticide spilled into flour that was later made into bread in Tijuana.

Auguste Renoir disdained big effects in his paintings. The French artist once said, "Give me an apple tree in a suburban garden. I haven't the slightest need of Niagara Falls."

Senate OKs Corporate Levy

5th Of Pennsylvania Tax Package On Shafer's Desk

HARRISBURG (AP) — A fifth of the Republican $285 million tax package is on Gov. Shafer's desk, but a bitter legislative battle is in the offing over the remaining tax bills.

The Senate gave final legistive approval Tuesday to a $59.5 million proposal to raise taxes on corporate net incomes and now turns its attention to House - passed $68.5 million cigarette tax bill.

However, $157 million in even more controversial business and consumer tax bills has yet to be acted on in the Republican-controlled House.

Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup said, "No agreement has been reached on the balance of the tax program."

Both chambers are in recess, with the Senate returning Monday and the House the following week.

Minutes after passing the CNI bill, the Senate approved, 45-1, a $34.6 million appropriation for college scholarships and sent the measure to Shafer.

Minority Senate Democrats previously agreed to provide the necessary votes for the CNI measure if the Senate would approve the scholarship appropriation and $19.7 million in various other appropriations.

But the going looks rougher on the cigarette tax bill.

One roadblock appears to be House Bill 1136, which would provide state money to Parochial and private schools. This issue crosses party lines.

Some leading Senate Democrats reportedly would like to increase the proposed nickel boost on a pack of cigarettes to seven cents, with the additional two pennies covering $26 million for nonpublic schools.

As for the CNI tax, it would rise from 6 to 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1, and would increase another one-half per cent next January.

Nine Democrats voted for this business tax, while Sen. William B. Lentz of Dauphin County was the sole Republican voting no. Lentz, who also voted against the scholarship appropriation, previously said he would not vote for tax increases this year.

A mild surprise developed when Sen. Richard J. Green, R-Cambria, changed his mind and voted in favor of the tax.

Previously, Green said he would prefer to see the entire tax package in the Senate before voting in the affirmative.

Senate Democrats had taken this same position but said they decided to vote for this one tax now to ease the minds of colleges and scholarship recipients.

Consequently, the Democrats made their offer Monday, and it was accepted Tuesday by Shafer, who responded, "I am glad the dike has at last been broken. At least we are moving one step forward to solve our total revenue problem."

Other highlights:

Judges — A Senate committee sent to the floor bills that would authorize eight new judges in seven counties; two in Delaware County. These measures already have cleared the House.

Vietnam — The Senate dropped from the calendar a resolution that would have affirmed support of the Johnson Administration's policy in Vietnam. Majority Republicans privately say such a resolution would be embarrassing to the national GOP position.

County Fund Plan Backed By GOP Unit

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican Executive Committee Tuesday night endorsed the investment program established Aug. 28 by the two GOP county commissioners —James W. Boyd and Charles J. Gause.

Charles J. Pike, Lisbon attorney and county GOP chairman, said the committee considers the program "good financial management of taxpayers' dollars."

Pike presided for the meeting at GOP headquarters on E. Lincoln Way. He said the state of Ohio has made $4 million in two months this year on short-term investment of state funds.

Gause said the county investment board is an advisory group which will meet monthly to study investments and advise the commissioners on the amount of county money available for investment.

Gause also said the county will save approximately $278 per month on gasoline for the county welfare and sheriff's departments. The Welfare Department will buy gasoline for retarded school buses from the county garage bulk tanks effective Oct. 1, he said, and a bulk tank will be installed on the County Jail grounds.

Brief talks were given by Boyd, Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel.

Pike reminded committeemen that servicemen's absentee ballots are available at the County Election Board in East Liverpool. Members of servicemen's families may request them. He announced that the GOP advisory group has luncheon meetings the second and fourth Mondays monthly at the Wick Hotel here. The next executive committee meeting will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 at headquarters.

Desegregation Order Upheld In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The State Supreme Court has upheld the authority of the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission to order an end to defacto school desegregation.

A 4-2 decision Tuesday ordered the Chester School Board to comply with the commission's ruling overturning two lower court decisions.

In a dissenting opinion Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr. said the decision "treats the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission as a statewide super school board."

"The racial imbalance in the Chester schools is unquestionably due to the racial imbalance in the various neighborhoods where the children reside . . ." Bell said.

It was agreed by everyone that the Chester School Board did not create and is not responsible for, nor can it change or eliminate such neighborhood racial imbalance."

However, the majority ordered the district to submit a new desegregation plan.

In November 1964, following a year of Negro protests and demonstrations, the commission ordered the school district to integrate six predominantly Negro schools.

Commonwealth Court at Harrisburg overruled the commission, saying the school board had not intentionally maintained segregation. This court's view was later upheld by Superior Court.

Justice Samuel J. Roberts, writing the Supreme Court's majority opinion, said:

"The argument that the commission's order will destroy the neighborhood school system completely distorts the historical rationale of neighborhood schools. Traditionally, the neighborhood school has been an exercise in democracy . . ."

He said enrollment figures for the six Chester schools clearly show defacto segregation.

"But because racial imbalance is not precisely defined in the human relations act," Roberts wrote, "the school district argues that the legislature has failed to provide adequate standards within which the commission may act . . . we find this contention to be without merit."

Schapp Speaks At Midland Event

Milton T. Schapp, former Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, discussed the utility tax laws of the state when the Beaver County Boroughs Association conducted its quarterly meeting, with Midland Borough as host at the St. Anthony Club Tuesday night.

General chairman of the event was Edward P. Cilli, Midland's assistant borough secretary.

Mayor Eli G. Corak of Midland welcomed the association and introduced Schapp, who discussed tax exemption on real estate property owned by utility companies. He said only in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is the tax paid on real estate holding by these companies. He used as an illustration, the Duquesne Light Co. facility at Shippingport and pointed out this is tax exempt. He is urging legislation to change the law regarding the utility tax.

"Tennessee Waltz," introduced in 1950 by Patti Page, now is the official state song of Tennessee. It is said to have sold 3 million copies in its first year of release, 6 million by now, making it the largest selling record by a girl singer.

Bernie Allen was in town the other day when the Senators were in Cleveland, and bemoaned the fact that he was not playing too much this year with the Washington team.

Allen, hampered by injuries, is hitting less than .200 and has appeared in only about 90 games. The Senators are using youngsters, such as Frank Coggins and Tim Cullen, at Allen's second base spot. Bernie said he thought he would be traded after the season, and understands the Giants are interested. The Giants have had a second base problem since Davey Williams suffered a back injury in the early 1950s.

I'VE ALWAYS regarded Major Amos B. Hoople, chubby central character of the comic cartoon "Our Boarding House", as quite a blowhard, but the Major has something to crow about after his football predictions of last weekend. These predictions are distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

After looking them over last week, I thought the Major was crazy in picking Houston over Michigan State, Northwestern over Miami, Oklahoma State over Arkansas, Kansas State over Colorado State and Boston U. over Colgate. But Hoople (or his friends at NEA) was correct on all these picks and notched a 31-9 mark for the week. Better than the Review Yogis, by a long shot.

OAK GLEN football fans, despondent after three losses, got more bad news this week when arch-rival Weirton High was ranked the No. 1 AAA team in West Virginia by UPI. The teams clash Nov. 3 at Newell. No other Golden Bear opponents were ranked. St. Alban's is second to Weirton.

But things could always be worse. Take the case of Paul Quinn, a small college in Texas. In 1966 it lost its opener to Alcorn A&M of Louisiana 70-0. A rematch was scheduled for this year, and the PQ fans hardly thought things could get worse, but they did. Final score: Alcorn 101, Paul Quinn 0.

BESIDES WEIR HIGH'S high ranking, the folks in Weirton have cause to cheer in another sport — soccer. Weirton entered the Keystone soccer League for the first time this year and is 3-0 and in first place, averaging nearly six goals a game. The other members of the amateur league are in Pennsylvania, from Ambridge to south of Pittsburgh.

BETTER PASSING and kicking have been keys to West Virginia U.'s increased success in football this year. The Mountaineers have attempted 62 per cent more passes this year than last year, and are connecting on half the passes thrown. Garrett Ford, bothered by an ankle injury, is carrying the ball 56 per cent less this season, though still rushing 13 times a game.

Ken Justowich, the sophomore place-kicker, has hit 10 straight extra points and six of seven field goals and leads the team in scoring.

WATERFORD PARK will entertain its fans with music again Monday night, with the Sy Zentner orchestra appearing there. The band will play during the afternoon and evening, with dancing following the final race.

LYNDA BIRD'S wedding has been set for Dec. 9, a Saturday. Let's hope that TV coverage of the affair won't pre-empt any sports events, as Luci's wedding did during a hot pennant race in August 1966.

Tigers Win 1-0; Chisox In Rain

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just about everybody has a finger in the American League pennant pie, including Mother Nature, but Harmon Killebrew shoved his whole fist into it.

Killebrew walloped a pair of tape measure home runs Tuesday helping Minnesota whip California 7-3. The victory moved the Twins one full game ahead of both Boston and Chicago. The Red Sox lost 6-3 to Cleveland and the White Sox bowed to the elements when their game at Kansas City was postponed by rain.

The rainout left the Sox in second place, one percentage point ahead of Boston. Chicago must play a doubleheader tonight. Fourth-place Detroit, still alive, stayed 1½ games off the pace by whipping New York 1-0. Washington trimmed Baltimore 4-1 in Tuesday's other AL game.

Killebrew hammered a 435-foot shot following Cesar Tovar's sixth inning single as the Twins busted loose for four runs, wiping out a 3-2 California lead.

An inning later, Killebrew's 43rd of the season went into orbit. Bob Allison also homered for Minnesota.

Jim Kaat pitched a five-hitter and struck out 13 for his seventh victory this month. It ran his season's record to 16-13.

Boston, meanwhile, was victimized by light-hitting Chico Salmon, who drove in three runs with a homer and a double. Salmon started the Indians off by doubling home a run and then scoring another in the second inning. Four innings later, he lofted his second homer of the year with a man on base.

Chuck Hinton also homered and Luis Tiant went the distance for Cleveland despite Carl Yastrzemski's 43rd homer, which accounted for all three Red Sox runs.

The Red Sox trail both Minnesota and Chicago by one game in the loss column. They play the Twins the last two games of the season but can not make up the ground against the White Sox unless either Kansas City or Washington beats Chicago at least once.

Detroit stayed alive on Mickey Lolich's four-hitter, against the Yankees, Ed Mathews' sixth inning sacrifice fly drove in the game's only run against loser Mel Stottlemyre, 14-15, who allowed only three hits.

Lennie Green sliced a double to left, the first hit off Stottlemyre, opening the sixth. He raced to third on Dick McAuliffe's single to center and McAuliffe reached second on the throw to the plate. After Kaline was intentionally walked, Mathews' fly ball drove in the run.

Three Washington pitchers—Buster Narum, Joe Coleman and Darold Knowles—limited Baltimore to four hits as the Senators trimmed the Orioles.

Red Sox 1 Back After Tribe Wins

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, admittedly with their backs to the wall and "running out of tomorrows," looked for help today in a bid for their first American League pennant since 1946.

"It doesn't look good," Manager Dick Williams said after the Red Sox were knocked from a share of the league lead by a 6-3 loss to the Cleveland Indians Tuesday.

"We've battled back before and we can battle back again, but now we need a little help from somebody else," the 38-year-old rookie field boss said.

The defeat dropped the Red Sox one full game behind the Minnesota Twins. The Chicago White Sox were rained out at Kansas City and moved .001 ahead of Boston into second place.

One of the most disappointed players in the Boston clubhouse after Cleveland's fourth victory in 17 meetings with the Red Sox was Carl Yastrzemski.

Yaz, bidding for the Triple Crown, accounted for the three Red Sox runs with his 43rd home, a blast far into the bleachers in dead center in the seventh.

A single by Tony Horton, traded for Bell, a double by light-hitting Chico Salmon and two infield outs gave the Indians a 2-0 lead in the second. Then they added another run on a pair of cheap hits and a wild throw in the third.

Jose Santiago took over the mound from Bell in the fifth and was tagged for three runs in the sixth—one on Chuck Hinton's 10th homer and two on a single by Horton and Salmon's second homer of the season.

Most clubhouse talk—in both rooms — centered around Cleveland Manager Joe Adcock's strategy of walking Yastrzemski with a runner on second and one out in the first inning. Right-hander Luis Tiant backed the move by fanning George Scott and Reggie Smith to end the threat.

"He'll (Yaz) beat you all the time," Adcock said. "I don't think he knows what pressure is."

Little League Football Game Set Tomorrow

A Tri - State Little League football game will be played tomorrow night at Chester between North Side and Glenmoor.

The Pee Wee game will start at 6:30 and the Big Team game at 7:30.

The Steelers had a 1-11-1 regular season record against the Chicago Bears prior to 1967.

AFL Team In Cincinnati, Paul Brown Will Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati officially has its American Football League franchise effective in 1968 and Paul Brown plans to return to coaching — at least for a year.

The details were completed Tuesday when Brown and his associates signed an agreement with the American Football League to locate a franchise here with Brown having the control "vested in me."

It was reported to be a $7.5 million deal.

It will be a re-play for both Cincinnati and Brown.

Cincinnati had a professional football team many years ago but it wound up as a dud.

Brown first achieved fame as the coach of mighty teams turned out by Massillon High School. Then he went to Ohio State and was equally successful. After a hitch with the Navy, as a coach, he turned to the pros — again with the typical Brown success.

He was ousted, however, as coach of the Cleveland Browns in 1963 and since has been sitting on the sidelines at his home in California.

In saying he would coach the Cincinnati team at least for the first year, Brown said, "I want to take the lumps that go with it."

The AFL previously had indicated Brown and his group would get the franchise but he had objected to some of the terms.

As it turned out, it was just about what the league originally had prescribed.

Cincinnati's team will get none of the television revenue for the first two years and then will share equally with all other clubs.

In the draft from other clubs to stock the first Cincinnati team, all clubs in the AFL, except the new Miami team, can freeze 29 players and Cincinnati can draft one. Then the other clubs can freeze two more and Cincinnati can draft two. The last stage will have the other clubs freezing one more and Cincinnati drafting one.

In addition, Cincinnati will have the sixth college draft choice for all clubs except Miami.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who presided over the packed news conference, called the signing of the agreement "the greatest step in the history of his city." He urbed Cincinnatians to unite to "make this the greatest football and baseball town in the nation."

Although the new football team will have its official start in 1968 it won't have a permanent home until perhaps 1970.

Plans are under way for a new stadium on the Ohio Riverfront to house both the football team and the baseball Reds.

Until the stadium is completed the football team is expected to play in either the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium or the Reds' Crosley Field.

Notre Dame, Purdue In Top College Game

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Notre Dame has Purdue guessing. Purdue has Notre Dame guessing. The team which guesses wrong might have to bow out of the running for the mythical national championship when the two powers collide Saturday.

Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 team, is wondering how 10th-ranked Purdue will employ Leroy Keyes, one of the best two-way players in the country.

Purdue's problem is relatively new and involves Irish quarterback Terry Hanratty. Hanratty's exploits as a passer are becoming legend but suddenly he has turned into a runner and Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf is wondering how often Hanratty plans to run.

Mollenkopf and Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian expressed great concern over their predicaments in telephone interviews Tuesday with Chicago football writers.

"We're guessing," said Parseghien when asked how he thought the Boilermakers would use Keyes, who last year grabbed an in-air fumble against the Irish and went 95 yards for a touchdown.

"He could play on offense," continued Parseghian, "and again they might put him on defense to possibly cover Jim Seymour. I don't know. I do know he's good enough to go either way or even both ways."

Mollenkopf said the Boilermakers must contain Hanratty if they hope to win and Parseghian compounded Purdue's problem by saying if the opportunity is there, Hanratty will run.

"As a sophomore last year he did not take the opportunity to run," said Ara. "We worked on this and he ran well against California."

Bernie Allen was in town the other day when the Senators were in Cleveland, and bemoaned the fact that he was not playing too much this year with the Washington team.

Allen, hampered by injuries, is hitting less than .200 and has appeared in only about 90 games. The Senators are using youngsters, such as Frank Coggins and Tim Cullen, at Allen's second base spot. Bernie said he thought he would be traded after the season, and understands the Giants are interested. The Giants have had a second base problem since Davey Williams suffered a back injury in the early 1950s.

Red Sox 1 Back After Tribe Wins

AP Picks Irish To Top Purdue

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Alabama scored 37 points last Saturday and couldn't win its football game.

Here's the coming weekend's picks:

Notre Dame over Purdue: The Boilermakers are noted for the defense, but how do you defense Notre Dame?

Southern California over Michigan State: When Toby Page, Trojan quarterback was injured, the Californians came up with Steve Sogge; when Tody Smith, foundation of the Spartan defense, was hurt, the Big Ten club came up with nothing.

Houston over Wake Forest: The Texas Cougars won't have the same zest in this one they had a week ago against Michigan State but they will have enough in reserve to win. This is a Friday night affair.

UCLA over Washington State: Gary Beban gives UCLA a big edge.

Georgia over Clemson: This supposedly is Clemson's best team in a decade but Georgia's loses only once each season and this isn't the weekend.

Nebraska over Minnesota: Both teams having quarterback problems but the Huskers are nearer to a solution.

Texas over Texas Tech: The Longhorns gave the mighty Southern California team fits Saturday night before finally losing, 17-13.

Alabama over Southern Mississippi: Coach Bear Bryant never will let the Crimson Tide forget that 37-37 deadlock with Florida State.

Army over Boston College: The Cadets will have to use Roger Le Doux, their third-string quarterback but should wiggle through to a triumph over the September choice as the best team in New England.

Duke over South Carolina: But it will be close.

North Carolina State over Florida State; The Seminoles reached their peak last week against Alabama.

Missouri over Northwestern: The Big Ten team pulled its surprise of the season last weekend and Missouri has a big Russ Washington in a healthy frame of mind.

Back Of Week Award Goes To Warren McVea

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duffy Daugherty thought he was the quickest runner he'd seen in a long time. The trouble was Duffy's players had trouble seeing him at all.

He's Warren "Mack the Knife" McVea of Houston, this week's Associated Press Back of the Week.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior from San Antonio, Tex., was named today as a result of his performance—155 yards and one touchdown on 14 carries—in Houston's 37-7 upset of Michigan State last Saturday.

"You had to be close to him to appreciate some of his faking," Daugherty said.

Some Michigan State defenders may have been close to McVea, but it is doubtful they appreciated him very much as he raced 50 yards for a second period touchdown to put Houston ahead to stay, 10-7.

McVea, who runs the 100 in 9.5, also relled off jaunts of 48, 33 and 17 yards.

McVea barely edged Florida State quarterback Kim Hammond for Back of the Week.

The 6-1 senior from Melbourne, Fla., completed 23 of 40 passes for 280 yards and three touchdowns in Florida State's stunning 37-37 tie with Alabama. He also ran 11 times for 45 yards.

And he did all of this in the role of a substitute. Hammond started in place of Gary Pajcic, who was troubled by a sore arm.

Hammond's three TD passes matched the number Alabama yielded all last season. The 37 points also matched the total given up by the Crimson Tide in 1966.

Benvenuti 7-5 Favorite Over Emile Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith's record shows he is a tough fighter in return bouts but it appears to make no difference to Nino Benvenuti, the confident middleweight champion.

Out in Reno, Nev., where betting is legal, the 29-year-old champion from Trieste has been made the 7-5 favorite to retain his title in the 15-round return scrap at Shea Stadium Thursday night.

Benvenuti was a 13-5 underdog last April 17 when he dethroned the muscular New Yorker on a decisive 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

In New York, illegal bookies still made it even money—10-11 and take your pick—but the first sizeable bet could change the odds. Most bets usually are made after the weigh-in the day of the fight.

The last four times Griffith met an opponent twice, he won all four times. He was beaten in previous fights with Benny Paret, Luis Rodriguez and Manny Gonzalez, and whipped them in returns for the welterweight title.

Just before he lost to Benvenuti, Griffith outpointed Joey Archer in two middleweight title defenses.

"I fought a stupid fight against Benvenuti," said Griffith before breaking camp at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., today. "I don't intend to make the same mistakes again. I didn't punch enough and I didn't go to his body enough. I'm going to press him and keep the pressure on him."

"I know what he can do," said Benvenuti, "and I know what I can do. I can do it better."

Miami HB Bob Glover MAC Back

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Junior halfback Bob Glover, who sparked Miami to an upset 14-3 victory over Tulane last Saturday, is the Mid-American Conference back of the week.

Other backs nominated were Ron Swartz of Kent State, Jim Torrence of Marshall, Bob Pfefferly of Toledo, Cleve Bryant of Ohio University, Marty Barski of Western Michigan and Bob Zimpfer of Bowling Green.

Other linemen considered were Clark Pinkerton of Kent, Jim Preston of Marshall, Western's Gerry Collins, Dave Seiter of Bowling Green and Frank Peters of Ohio.

NEW YORK (AP) — John Unitas and Willie Richardson of the Baltimore Colts lead the National Football League in pass throwing and receiving respectively, according to statistics released by the league today.

Unitas had 43 completions out of 66 attempts for a 65.2 percentage and 668 yards. Richardson has 13 catches for 203 yards, a 15.6-yard-per-catch average, and two touchdowns.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis leads the scorers with 20 points on nine field goals and three extra points. Dan Reeves of Dallas leads the rushers with 183 yards on 33 attempts, a 5.5 yard average.

Notre Dame is the oldest rival on Michigan State's football schedule this fall. The teams first met in 1897.

Navy Has Best Offense, Georgia Best Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Navy's thrilling 23-22 victory over Penn State lifted the Middies into an early lead in total offense among the nation's major-college football teams.

Navy gained 489 yards against the Nittany Lions in its opening game. Rice is the runnerup with a total of 454 followed by Texas Tech with 440 and Louisville 433.5.

UCLA, which has gained an average of 314 yards in two games, is the top team in rushing offense. Dayton is second with 310.5, figures compiled by NCAA Sports Services disclosed today.

The forward passing pacesetter is New Mexico with a 281 yard average for two games. Then come Purdue with 273 and Brigham Young, 264.

Other leaders are Texas Tech in scoring with a 52 point average, Georgia in total defense with 66 yards, Syracuse in rushing defense with a yield of only four yards in one game, and Navy in punting with a 52-yard average.

Georgia also is No. 1 in forward pass defense with no completions against it in two tries.

The Service Bureau, noting the rules change that keeps interior linemen at the scrimmage line on punts until the ball is kicked, revealed that the average number of punts a game for both teams so far this season is 12.9. This is 1.1 more than last season's final figure.

Benvenuti 7-5 Favorite Over Emile Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith's record shows he is a tough fighter in return bouts but it appears to make no difference to Nino Benvenuti, the confident middleweight champion.

Out in Reno, Nev., where betting is legal, the 29-year-old champion from Trieste has been made the 7-5 favorite to retain his title in the 15-round return scrap at Shea Stadium Thursday night.

Benvenuti was a 13-5 underdog last April 17 when he dethroned the muscular New Yorker on a decisive 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

In New York, illegal bookies still made it even money—10-11 and take your pick—but the first sizeable bet could change the odds. Most bets usually are made after the weigh-in the day of the fight.

The last four times Griffith met an opponent twice, he won all four times. He was beaten in previous fights with Benny Paret, Luis Rodriguez and Manny Gonzalez, and whipped them in returns for the welterweight title.

Just before he lost to Benvenuti, Griffith outpointed Joey Archer in two middleweight title defenses.

"I fought a stupid fight against Benvenuti," said Griffith before breaking camp at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., today. "I don't intend to make the same mistakes again. I didn't punch enough and I didn't go to his body enough. I'm going to press him and keep the pressure on him."

"I know what he can do," said Benvenuti, "and I know what I can do. I can do it better."

Navy Has Best Offense, Georgia Best Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Navy's thrilling 23-22 victory over Penn State lifted the Middies into an early lead in total offense among the nation's major-college football teams.

Navy gained 489 yards against the Nittany Lions in its opening game. Rice is the runnerup with a total of 454 followed by Texas Tech with 440 and Louisville 433.5.

UCLA, which has gained an average of 314 yards in two games, is the top team in rushing offense. Dayton is second with 310.5, figures compiled by NCAA Sports Services disclosed today.

The forward passing paceseter is New Mexico with a 281 yard average for two games. Then come Purdue with 273 and Brigham Young, 264.

Other leaders are Texas Tech in scoring with a 52 point average, Georgia in total defense with 66 yards, Syracuse in rushing defense with a yield of only four yards in one game, and Navy in punting with a 52-yard average.

Georgia also is No. 1 in forward pass defense with no completions against it in two tries.

The Service Bureau, noting the rules change that keeps interior linemen at the scrimmage line on punts until the ball is kicked, revealed that the average number of punts a game for both teams so far this season is 12.9. This is 1.1 more than last season's final figure.

Game Protested By Both Teams

Ex-Basketballer Ron Reed Sparks Baseball Rhubarb

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Basketball and baseball managers take some funny bounces. . .and now Rod Reed has seen a little of both.

Reed, a former pro cager making his pitch for a baseball job with the Atlanta Braves, inadvertently touched off one of the season's zaniest rhubarbs Tuesday night at Cincinnati.

The Braves edged the Reds 4-3 for Reed's second victory in the majors. But both managers played the game under protest and neither one was around for the finish. . .because an umpire dared to change his mind.

Rookie Umpire Frank Dezelan signalled a foul tip on a pitch to Reed in the Braves' eighth, then reversed himself and called it a ball. After a hassle at home plate, Reds' skipper Dave Bristol and Atlanta pilot Billy Hitchcock were ejected, along with Cincinnati second baseman Tommy Helms.

Both managers then announced they were completing the game under protest. . .a happening perhaps unprecedented in baseball history.

In other National League action, San Francisco drubbed the New York Mets 8-3, Los Anglees trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1, Houston shaded Philadelphia 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs edged St. Louis 8-7.

The fireworks at Cincinnati started after Hank Aaron's three-run homer shot the Braves into a 3-1 lead in the sixth inning. Reed, who had blanked the Reds except for a fifth inning homer by pitcher Milt Pappas, took a pitch from reliever Don Nottebart.

Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then changed his call . . . bringing Hitchcock and Bristol to the plate on the run.

"I did not question the call," Hitchcock said. "I just asked what it was and I walked away. Then Bristol came back to the plate and I went back and asked what he wanted to know."

"I wasn't questioning whether it was a ball or a foul tip," said Bristol. I wanted to know why Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then decided it was a ball."

"I did give it, but I changed my mind," said Dezelan, explaining he first thought the pitch ticked Reed's bat, but decided the ball had hit the glove of catcher John Bench instead.

"A manager cannot protest balls and strikes," the umpire added.

The victory was the first of the season for Reed, who played for the Detroit Pistons in the National Basketball Association before giving up the court game. He pitched for the Braves' Richmond farm club until his recall early this month.

Willie Mays slammed a pair of homers, driving in three runs, Willie McCovey unladed a 450-foot, three-run blast and Jim Hart hit a solo homer as the Giants pounded the Mets.

The Dodgers' Don Drysdale registered his 190th career victory with relief help from Ron Perranoski, matching the club record set by Dazzy Vance. Al Ferrara's two-run homer in the first inning was the big blow for Los Angeles.

Chuck Harrison's leadoff homer in the ninth lifted the Astros past the Phillies for their third straight victory.

The Cubs caught St. Louis in the ninth. Ron Santo homered to tie the score, Al Spangler doubled and Randy Hundley knocked in the winner with a two-out single. Lou Brock, who socked two homers for the NL champions, sent them ahead 7-6 with a two-run shot in the top of the ninth.

Bucks Will Dedicate Game To Late Trainer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes have dedicated their football season opener against Arizona this Saturday to trainer John Ferchir, who was found dead at his Columbus home Tuesday.

Ferchir, 53, apparently died of a heart attack. He had just returned to work with the Buckeyes after finishing his first season as trainer for the Columbus Jets International League baseball team.

Jets Lead In Offense And Raiders Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets lead the American Football League in total offense and the Oakland Raiders are first in total defense, according to statistics released by the league otday.

The Jets have gained an average of 382.5 yards per game, 267 in the air and 115.5 on the ground. The Raiders have given up an average of 125.5 yards, 56.5 on the ground and 69.0 in the air.

The Houston Oilers kicked off from their own 12½ yard line in an exhibition game against Dallas when two personal fouls were called on kickoffs.

Ryan May Not Play On Sunday

"Frank will work with both quarterbacks all week,' Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday. "Actually, we'll be in a better position than when Ryan is healthy," Collier was speaking of the possibility of putting either Lane or Shiner into action against the New Orleans Saints Sunday.

Collier said Dr. Ippolito was concerned that Ryan might reinjure the ankle and "I think Vic is right," the coach said. "I think it's a good gamble."

Collier said he wouldn't make a decision later this week on backup men for receivers Eppie Barney, Paul Warfield and Ralph Smith. The Browns have three receivers injured. including all-pro flanker Gary Collins.

The club could work defensive back Ben Davis as receiver or activate Rookie Ron Green from the cab squad. Also, Collier said running back Charley Harraway is a possibility for the right end spot and Leroy Kelly could move to flanker if somebody gets hurt.

Brown Named Orioles Public Relations Head

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced today the appointment of Robert W. Brown as the American League club's public relations director, effective Oct. 1.

Brown, 35, the Orioles' traveling secretary since 1960 and press relations director for the past several years, succeeds C. Joseph Bride Jr. who has resigned to accept a position outside baseball.

Game Protested By Both Teams

Ex-Basketballer Ron Reed Sparks Baseball Rhubarb

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Basketball and baseball managers take some funny bounces. . .and now Rod Reed has seen a little of both.

Reed, a former pro cager making his pitch for a baseball job with the Atlanta Braves, inadvertently touched off one of the season's zaniest rhubarbs Tuesday night at Cincinnati.

The Braves edged the Reds 4-3 for Reed's second victory in the majors. But both managers played the game under protest and neither one was around for the finish. . .because an umpire dared to change his mind.

Rookie Umpire Frank Dezelan signalled a foul tip on a pitch to Reed in the Braves' eighth, then reversed himself and called it a ball. After a hassle at home plate, Reds' skipper Dave Bristol and Atlanta pilot Billy Hitchcock were ejected, along with Cincinnati second baseman Tommy Helms.

Both managers then announced they were completing the game under protest. . .a happening perhaps unprecedented in baseball history.

In other National League action, San Francisco drubbed the New York Mets 8-3, Los Anglees trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1, Houston shaded Philadelphia 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs edged St. Louis 8-7.

The fireworks at Cincinnati started after Hank Aaron's three-run homer shot the Braves into a 3-1 lead in the sixth inning. Reed, who had blanked the Reds except for a fifth inning homer by pitcher Milt Pappas, took a pitch from reliever Don Nottebart.

Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then changed his call . . . bringing Hitchcock and Bristol to the plate on the run.

"I did not question the call," Hitchcock said. "I just asked what it was and I walked away. Then Bristol came back to the plate and I went back and asked what he wanted to know."

"I wasn't questioning whether it was a ball or a foul tip," said Bristol. I wanted to know why Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then decided it was a ball."

"I did give it, but I changed my mind," said Dezelan, explaining he first thought the pitch ticked Reed's bat, but decided the ball had hit the glove of catcher John Bench instead.

"A manager cannot protest balls and strikes," the umpire added.

The victory was the first of the season for Reed, who played for the Detroit Pistons in the National Basketball Association before giving up the court game. He pitched for the Braves' Richmond farm club until his recall early this month.

Willie Mays slammed a pair of homers, driving in three runs, Willie McCovey unladed a 450-foot, three-run blast and Jim Hart hit a solo homer as the Giants pounded the Mets.

The Dodgers' Don Drysdale registered his 190th career victory with relief help from Ron Perranoski, matching the club record set by Dazzy Vance. Al Ferrara's two-run homer in the first inning was the big blow for Los Angeles.

Chuck Harrison's leadoff homer in the ninth lifted the Astros past the Phillies for their third straight victory.

The Cubs caught St. Louis in the ninth. Ron Santo homered to tie the score, Al Spangler doubled and Randy Hundley knocked in the winner with a two-out single. Lou Brock, who socked two homers for the NL champions, sent them ahead 7-6 with a two-run shot in the top of the ninth.

Bucks Will Dedicate Game To Late Trainer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes have dedicated their football season opener against Arizona this Saturday to trainer John Ferchir, who was found dead at his Columbus home Tuesday.

Ferchir, 53, apparently died of a heart attack. He had just returned to work with the Buckeyes after finishing his first season as trainer for the Columbus Jets International League baseball team.

Jets Lead In Offense And Raiders Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets lead the American Football League in total offense and the Oakland Raiders are first in total defense, according to statistics released by the league otday.

The Jets have gained an average of 382.5 yards per game, 267 in the air and 115.5 on the ground. The Raiders have given up an average of 125.5 yards, 56.5 on the ground and 69.0 in the air.

The Houston Oilers kicked off from their own 12½ yard line in an exhibition game against Dallas when two personal fouls were called on kickoffs.

Ryan May Not Play On Sunday

"Frank will work with both quarterbacks all week,' Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday. "Actually, we'll be in a better position than when Ryan is healthy," Collier was speaking of the possibility of putting either Lane or Shiner into action against the New Orleans Saints Sunday.

Collier said Dr. Ippolito was concerned that Ryan might reinjure the ankle and "I think Vic is right," the coach said. "I think it's a good gamble."

Collier said he wouldn't make a decision later this week on backup men for receivers Eppie Barney, Paul Warfield and Ralph Smith. The Browns have three receivers injured. including all-pro flanker Gary Collins.

The club could work defensive back Ben Davis as receiver or activate Rookie Ron Green from the cab squad. Also, Collier said running back Charley Harraway is a possibility for the right end spot and Leroy Kelly could move to flanker if somebody gets hurt.

Negro Leader Says Romney Could Win If He Acts Right

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who showed up at two Negro meetings on school complaints, was described by a Negro leader as the next president—"if he acts right."

But a state Republican leader said Tuesday night that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California—and not Romney—now is the strongest potential GOP presidential contender in Georgia.

Romney is making a tour of cities to study urban problems.

His itinerars today included Kingstree and other areas in rural Williamsburg County, S.C. The announced purpose of his South Carolina visit is to try to determine whether there is any relationship between economic conditions in the South and Negro riots in the North.

Williamsburg is an economically depressed, predominantly Negro county in eastern South Carolina from which many Negroes have migrated north in recent years, largely to Rochester, N.Y.

The Michigan governor went to a church Tuesday where Hosea L. Williams told about 200 persons that Romney was "the next president of the United States, if he acts right."

Williams is an officer of Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) which is headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who in 1964 opposed Republican Barry Goldwater's candidacy for president.

Tip To What UAW Wants Given Hint

DETROIT (AP) — A tip-off to what the United Auto Workers union wants in the way of a wage increase for its skilled members in plants of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler may have been given Tuesday.

The UAW laid before the Detroit Tooling Association a demand for a $1.20 hourly increase in a one-year contract for 6,000 UAW members working in independent Detroit job shops.

A deadlock on economic issues resulted 21 days ago in a strike by the UAW against Ford, idling 160,000 in Ford plants across the country and knocking Ford out of production just as 1968 model cars were beginning to roll in volume off assembly lines.

UAW members are continuing to man GM and Chrysler assembly lines without contract protection while the union seeks a pattern-setting agreement at Ford to replace three-year pacts which expired Sept. 7 with the Big Three.

All three companies have complained that the union has placed no specific cents-per-hour demand on the bargaining table. UAW President Walter P. Reuther insists that in 30 years of bargaining with GM, Ford and Chrysler his union never has done so.

So far the union has told the Big Three only that it wants a "substantial" general wage increase for all, plus an additional "substantial" amount for skilled tradesmen.

Hamilton Hits Police Report Of Lynda's Coats In His Car

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — George Hamilton, the handsome former boy friend of Lynda Bird Johnson, says he is embarrassed over police reports that coats found in his impounded Rolls Royce belonged to the President's daughter.

"Nothing in the car belonged to Miss Johnson," he said during an interview between rehearsals of musical "Funny Girl," in which he plays the husband of Fanny Brice.

"It had my clothes in it," he said.

Police in Kingman, Ariz., touched off the tempest when they found an expensice beige car, parked unlocked behind a restaurant.

At first, reports indicated that four mink coats were found in the car, along with several pieces of luggage with Hamilton's identification.

"Two of the overcoats are worn by me in the play, and they have fur on the collar only," Hamilton said, adding that the two remaining cloth coats were his, too.

William McMurchey, about 30, who Hamilton had hired last week to drive the leased car from California to the East Coast, was dismissed after the incident.

Hamilton said he sent the car, loaded with costumes and his personal clothing, ahead because there were too many to take on a plane.

The car had burnt out its brakes in Kingman Sunday. Police telephoned the actor in Maryland and Hamilton asked them to impound the car to safeguard its contents from looting.

3 Cars Damaged In 2 Minor City Traffic Crashes

Three cars were damaged in two minor traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday, police reported.

A mishap on Harvey Ave. damaged a halted 1963 convertible driven by Mrs. Nancy Lee Hornick, 24, of Calcutta and a 1960 four - door sedan operated by Daniel Leon Pridemore, 18, of 1812 Michigan Ave.

The woman said her car, headed west, was halted in the traffic lane when hit from the rear. Pridemore said he took his eyes off the street momentarily, causing him to hit the halted car.

The collision damaged the rear deck lid of the Hornick car and caused very minor damage to the front end of the Pridemore auto, officers said. Pridemore as cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assurred clear distance.

U.S. Seeks To Get ABC Talks Going

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service says it has contacted the American Broadcasting Co. and the union of its striking technicians in an effort to get negotiations going again.

After this statement Tuesday, ABC and the striking union, the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET), said they knew of no such contacts.

The National Broadcasting Co., which also is involved in a contract dispute with NABET but has not been struck, said it had been reached and was prepared to resume negotiations.

The AFL-CIO American Federation of Musicians notified its locals Tuesday that members should not cross NABET picket lines.

The AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), which represents performers and announcers, pledged full legal and financial support for members who refused to cross picket lines of the 1,500 technicians who struck the ABC television and radio networks late last Friday.

Donald F. Conaway, executive secretary of AFTRA, said the pledge was in response to what he called ABC threats of legal action for breach of contract.

NABET has picket lines at ABC facilities in New York City, Chicago, Washington, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Supervisory personnel and other ABC employes have been filling in on the ABC television and radio networks.

Negro Leader Says Romney Could Win If He Acts Right

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who showed up at two Negro meetings on school complaints, was described by a Negro leader as the next president—"if he acts right."

But a state Republican leader said Tuesday night that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California—and not Romney—now is the strongest potential GOP presidential contender in Georgia.

Romney is making a tour of cities to study urban problems.

His itinerars today included Kingstree and other areas in rural Williamsburg County, S.C. The announced purpose of his South Carolina visit is to try to determine whether there is any relationship between economic conditions in the South and Negro riots in the North.

Williamsburg is an economically depressed, predominantly Negro county in eastern South Carolina from which many Negroes have migrated north in recent years, largely to Rochester, N.Y.

The Michigan governor went to a church Tuesday where Hosea L. Williams told about 200 persons that Romney was "the next president of the United States, if he acts right."

Williams is an officer of Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) which is headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who in 1964 opposed Republican Barry Goldwater's candidacy for president.

Tip To What UAW Wants Given Hint

DETROIT (AP) — A tip-off to what the United Auto Workers union wants in the way of a wage increase for its skilled members in plants of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler may have been given Tuesday.

The UAW laid before the Detroit Tooling Association a demand for a $1.20 hourly increase in a one-year contract for 6,000 UAW members working in independent Detroit job shops.

A deadlock on economic issues resulted 21 days ago in a strike by the UAW against Ford, idling 160,000 in Ford plants across the country and knocking Ford out of production just as 1968 model cars were beginning to roll in volume off assembly lines.

UAW members are continuing to man GM and Chrysler assembly lines without contract protection while the union seeks a pattern-setting agreement at Ford to replace three-year pacts which expired Sept. 7 with the Big Three.

All three companies have complained that the union has placed no specific cents-per-hour demand on the bargaining table. UAW President Walter P. Reuther insists that in 30 years of bargaining with GM, Ford and Chrysler his union never has done so.

So far the union has told the Big Three only that it wants a "substantial" general wage increase for all, plus an additional "substantial" amount for skilled tradesmen.

Hamilton Hits Police Report Of Lynda's Coats In His Car

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — George Hamilton, the handsome former boy friend of Lynda Bird Johnson, says he is embarrassed over police reports that coats found in his impounded Rolls Royce belonged to the President's daughter.

"Nothing in the car belonged to Miss Johnson," he said during an interview between rehearsals of musical "Funny Girl," in which he plays the husband of Fanny Brice.

"It had my clothes in it," he said.

Police in Kingman, Ariz., touched off the tempest when they found an expensice beige car, parked unlocked behind a restaurant.

At first, reports indicated that four mink coats were found in the car, along with several pieces of luggage with Hamilton's identification.

"Two of the overcoats are worn by me in the play, and they have fur on the collar only," Hamilton said, adding that the two remaining cloth coats were his, too.

William McMurchey, about 30, who Hamilton had hired last week to drive the leased car from California to the East Coast, was dismissed after the incident.

Hamilton said he sent the car, loaded with costumes and his personal clothing, ahead because there were too many to take on a plane.

The car had burnt out its brakes in Kingman Sunday. Police telephoned the actor in Maryland and Hamilton asked them to impound the car to safeguard its contents from looting.

3 Cars Damaged In 2 Minor City Traffic Crashes

Three cars were damaged in two minor traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday, police reported.

A mishap on Harvey Ave. damaged a halted 1963 convertible driven by Mrs. Nancy Lee Hornick, 24, of Calcutta and a 1960 four - door sedan operated by Daniel Leon Pridemore, 18, of 1812 Michigan Ave.

The woman said her car, headed west, was halted in the traffic lane when hit from the rear. Pridemore said he took his eyes off the street momentarily, causing him to hit the halted car.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Nielson Family Attitudes

Are the 1,100 sample families whose TV sets are equipped with A. C. Nielsen's rating Audimeters getting drunk with the power they hold over the nation's TV fare?

Hal Humphrey

Roy Huggins, executive producer of NBC-TV's "Run for Your Lide" series, says they are. He claims there are Nielsen householders who will tune out a show purposely in order to push its rating down.

"THEY DO THIS," says Huggins, "to punish a producer who has made a social statement with which they disagree.

"We did an episode last season called 'The Assassin,' which condemned our lax gun laws. Thousands of organized-type letters, probably inspired by the National Rifle Association, protested our show. That was to be expected, but what wasn't expected was a 5-point drop in the Nielsen rating for the show one week later.

"We dropped 2 Nielsen points the week after we showed 'A Rage for Justice,' a two-parter about the Negro problem and white backlash. There's no question in my mind that some of those Nielsen families tuned us out the next week to protest."

HUGGINS very likely is right. Some years ago, during one of the congressional committee investigations of ratings, an Arkansas woman with a Nielsen Audimeter admitted freedly she had quite watching Jack Paar because he'd had Negro James Meredith on his program, and she knew exactly how many rating points she would cost him.

Then there was the case of "The Committee for the 25th," another episode from "Run for Your Life," which dealt last season with the unsavoriness of the gambling element in Las Vegas.

The mayor of Las Vegas, and it seemed everyone else in Nevada, protested. But this time the rating went up on the following week's show. In all probability there isn't an Audimeter in the whole state of Nevada, or at most one. The owner of that one may have been out that evening gambling.

THIS RETRIBUTION exacted by Nielsen families from TV producers who offend them by taking sides on controversial subjects naturally has further dampened the enthusiasm of these producers to turn out such drama.

Huggins admitted he was no longer pressing for his more controversial episodes to be on the summer repeat schedule, and none of the three "Run for Your Life" shows mentioned here was on the past summer's rerun list.

Even producers can't overcome the network's final veto on reruns, as witnessed by ABC's refusal to include as the last two summer episodes of "The FBI" a two-partner titled "The Executioners," which dealt with the Cosa Nostra or Mafia.

NORMAN JOLLEY, former associate producer of "The FBI" series and writer of "The Executioners," stated that protests from a group calling itself the American-Italian Antidefamation League and others were responsible for the reruns of "The Executioners" being dropped by ABC.

It's Jolley's contention that if anyone is maligning the Italian race, it is the Cosa Nostra, and he challenged Judge Ross J. DiLorenzo and singer Frank Sinatra (president and national chairman of the league, respectively) to take a stand against "this enemy of America . . . this very real Mafia."

Huggins plans to do a sequel to his Las Vegas antigambling story of last season and insists that "Run for Your Life" will still probe controversy in 15 to 20 per cent of its scripts this season.

"BUT IT'S TRUE that fewer producers are willing to make statements in their series, because they are punished for it by those 1,100 Nielsen families who've found how powerful their tuning-out protest can be. Congress has investigated the ratings, but why doesn't it do something about them?" asks Huggins.

He knows the answer to that, as well as anyone in TV. When a $2 billion industry is content with the ratings furnished by Nielsen, neither Congress nor anyone else is likely to "do something about them."

Ike's Careful Not To Endorse; Likes Temple

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was careful not to endorse any presidential candidates. But he melted a little when Shirley Temple's name was mentioned.

Asked who he liked in the Republican presidential race, Eisenhower said there are "a good number of well qualified men.

Then asked what he thought about movie stars such as Ronald Reagan and Shirley Temple Black running for office, he said: "I see no reason why anyone in any profession should be barred from taking part in politics. "I'm all for Shirley Temple, I'll tell you that."

Eisenhower was in Johnstown to dedicate the new $8 million branch campus of the University of Pittsburgh. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Tentative Accord On Rockefeller

Javits Raps Report He's Shelved As Favorite Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York discounts as speculation reports he has been shelved as a potential "favorite son" candidate at the 1968 GOP convention.

New York Republican leaders were said Monday to have tentatively agreed to back Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as the state delegation's favorite son. The purported switch was described as an attempt to make sure the 92-member state delegation backs a moderate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Javits said Rockefeller has said nothing to him of such a change in plans and: "If we were going to change it would be we—the governor and myself—who would change."

The senator said in an interview Tuesday he believes Rockefeller, who recent polls have indicated would currently be the strongest Republican opponent against President Johnson, will stick by his numerous pledges not to seek the nomination.

"He's been so clear on the proposition he wants to keep out of it. I have absolutely no reason to believe he'll change that position," Javits said.

Javits has indicated interest in being considered for the Republican nomination for vice president. A designation as New York's favorite son with its bargaining power could help him in that regard if a moderate won the presidential nomination.

As long ago as November 1966, Rockefeller said he would back Javits as a favorite son candidate. Javits managed Rockefeller's successful bid last year for a third term as governor.

Rockefeller also has indicated he believes a ticket of Michigan Gov. George Romney for president and Javits for vice president would be the strongest one Republicans could field next year.

As a Jew friendly to labor and a strong backer of civil rights legislation, Javits has enjoyed solid backing from minorities.

But Rockefeller appeared to be backing away from his original position on Javits when he said in a September interview that he would accept the favorite son designation himself "as a last resort" and as a "means of holding the delegation together."

Walkout Hits 3 Cleveland Plants

CLEVELAND (AP)—A dispute over working conditions triggered a walkout by nearly 1,200 employes at three Leece-Neville Co. plants in Cleveland Tuesday.

Six workers were fired when they walked out at the firm's Hubbard Avenue plant and refused to return to work, company and union officials reported.

Peter J. Zicarelli, business manager of Local 1377, said the dispute involved dirt and noise at the Hubbard Avenue plant.

J. S. Allt, company executive vice president and treasurer, said a grievance was filed last Friday and that talks were held with union leaders Monday. He said steps were being taken to correct conditions.

Cleveland Nurses Slated To Return To Work Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — Public health nurses were to return to work today at Cleveland's seven city health centers after Tuesday's protest holiday, but the nurses have threatened to walk out again if pay raises are not forthcoming.

City Health and Welfare Director Clarence L. Gaines told the nurses their wages have gone up 28.4 per cent since he took office less than two years ago. He said he could not promise wage increases if they returned to work but said he would fight for them.

A committee of nurses led by Myra Freet, assistant executive director of the association, discussed the situation with James V. Stanton, council president, and were told by Stanton that he would discuss their pay requests with city officials.

Miss Freet said the nurses voted to return to work pending a report from Stanton, expected in a few days.

Miss Freet said that despite the pay raises cited by Gaines the nurses are so far below the pay level of other workers that it takes a dramatic pay hike just to "bring them up to the basement."

The nurses are seeking a $500 boost in starting pay for registered nurses, to $6,534 a year, with top pay of $9,120, nearly $2,000 higher than the present maximum.

Nielson Family Attitudes

Hal Humphrey

Roy Huggins, executive producer of NBC-TV's "Run for Your Lide" series, says they are. He claims there are Nielsen householders who will tune out a show purposely in order to push its rating down.

"THEY DO THIS," says Huggins, "to punish a producer who has made a social statement with which they disagree.

"We did an episode last season called 'The Assassin,' which condemned our lax gun laws. Thousands of organized-type letters, probably inspired by the National Rifle Association, protested our show. That was to be expected, but what wasn't expected was a 5-point drop in the Nielsen rating for the show one week later.

"We dropped 2 Nielsen points the week after we showed 'A Rage for Justice,' a two-parter about the Negro problem and white backlash. There's no question in my mind that some of those Nielsen families tuned us out the next week to protest."

HUGGINS very likely is right. Some years ago, during one of the congressional committee investigations of ratings, an Arkansas woman with a Nielsen Audimeter admitted freedly she had quite watching Jack Paar because he'd had Negro James Meredith on his program, and she knew exactly how many rating points she would cost him.

Then there was the case of "The Committee for the 25th," another episode from "Run for Your Life," which dealt last season with the unsavoriness of the gambling element in Las Vegas.

The mayor of Las Vegas, and it seemed everyone else in Nevada, protested. But this time the rating went up on the following week's show. In all probability there isn't an Audimeter in the whole state of Nevada, or at most one. The owner of that one may have been out that evening gambling.

THIS RETRIBUTION exacted by Nielsen families from TV producers who offend them by taking sides on controversial subjects naturally has further dampened the enthusiasm of these producers to turn out such drama.

Huggins admitted he was no longer pressing for his more controversial episodes to be on the summer repeat schedule, and none of the three "Run for Your Life" shows mentioned here was on the past summer's rerun list.

Even producers can't overcome the network's final veto on reruns, as witnessed by ABC's refusal to include as the last two summer episodes of "The FBI" a two-partner titled "The Executioners," which dealt with the Cosa Nostra or Mafia.

NORMAN JOLLEY, former associate producer of "The FBI" series and writer of "The Executioners," stated that protests from a group calling itself the American-Italian Antidefamation League and others were responsible for the reruns of "The Executioners" being dropped by ABC.

It's Jolley's contention that if anyone is maligning the Italian race, it is the Cosa Nostra, and he challenged Judge Ross J. DiLorenzo and singer Frank Sinatra (president and national chairman of the league, respectively) to take a stand against "this enemy of America . . . this very real Mafia."

Huggins plans to do a sequel to his Las Vegas antigambling story of last season and insists that "Run for Your Life" will still probe controversy in 15 to 20 per cent of its scripts this season.

"BUT IT'S TRUE that fewer producers are willing to make statements in their series, because they are punished for it by those 1,100 Nielsen families who've found how powerful their tuning-out protest can be. Congress has investigated the ratings, but why doesn't it do something about them?" asks Huggins.

He knows the answer to that, as well as anyone in TV. When a $2 billion industry is content with the ratings furnished by Nielsen, neither Congress nor anyone else is likely to "do something about them."

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — ACT, a small, militant civil rights group is planning a national campaign to encourage poor debtors to go into bankruptcy to "make shyster merchants behave better."

The organization, he said, plans to march 200 or more persons into U.S. District court in Washington "in a couple of weeks," to file bankruptcy papers.

Personal bankruptcies have trebled in the last 10 years. Credit organizations fear that another sharp rise could disrupt seriously the financial structure of large cities.

Hobson says the campaign isn't intended to dislocate the economy, and couldn't because "the poor don't have that much debt."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department has asked Congress to extend for 15 months the shield of Secret Service protection provided for Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children, John and Caroline.

In a letter to Congress, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said Mrs. Kennedy and her children receive much publicity, are subject to annoyance by the idly curious and "remain possible targets of the mentally deranged."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's airlines have objected vigorously to a proposal they pay for services rendered to them by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The Air Transport Association has told the CAB its members find "particularly offensive" a plan to charge up to $200 for each route application and up to $25,000 for each new route award.

Against Key North Viet Targets

Joint Chiefs Urged Bomb Onslaught Early In 1966

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff sought a 16-day bombing onslaught against 90 key targets in North Vietnam early in 1966, congressional testimony shows. But they didn't get their way.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the chiefs, revealed in Aug. 16 Senate testimony released Tuesday that the military urged this "much sharper type of attack."

Wheeler's comments indicated anew deep-seated differences between the military men and civilian leaders over the conduct of the war. President Johnson told a recent news conference there was no serious conflict between the joint chiefs and civilians.

Wheeler told the Senate preparedness investigating subcommittee that, in retrospect, the 90-target campaign probably would have taken 26 days to complete due to bad weather.

According to previous testimony by Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific commander-in-chief, this attack campaign would have hit all major targets in six areas: power, transportation, air defense, war-related industry, military complexes and petroleum, oil and lubricants.

Although many of these have been hit over past months, Wheeler said a number of significant targets remain off-limits—among them the port of Haiphong, point of entry for Soviet war aid to Hanoi.

"I have come down on the side that we could undertake actions against the port of Haiphong," the general stated. Most of the Soviet-supplied war goods passes through Haiphong, Wheeler said, but the only North Vietnamese port which has been hit is Cam Pha. He called it "peanuts."

"There is no question but that lacking support in the Soviet Union—that is, getting the means of the war—that any sizeable conflict would be impossible for the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong," Wheeler stated. "There is no question about it."

Wheeler also testified under oath that during his trip with McNamara to Vietnam in July, commanders were sounded out on the idea of limiting attacks to North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

In a White House news conference July 12, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said that during his trip "only incidentally did we discuss the air war in the North . . . Although the commander of the Pacific was there with his component commanders of the Air and Navy, we didn't get into it in great detail."

Sharp testified Aug. 9 he recommended to McNamara in Saigon that an additional 105 North Vietnamese targets be bombed. Sharp got approval to hit 16 then, and another 16 were authorized on Aug. 8—the night before the Senate group began air war hearings.

Subversives Board Due 'In Business' For Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board, termed by one senator a costly sinecure "for political cronies," apparently is going to remain in business for at least another year.

What that business will be is another question.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the board does not have any.

It has not held a hearing in some two years.

But the Senate Appropriations Committee announced Tuesday it has approved a $295,000 budget for the five-member board during the year that ends next June 30.

The House already has voted that sum, and the full Senate is expected to go along. The board sought $330,000. Proxmire recommended it get no money.

Proxmire and other critics of the board were not expected to press that demand when the appropriations bill reaches the floor. They were said to feel such a move, challenging the potent Appropriations Committee, would be defeated, and that this could supply ammunition to senators who want to revive the board with new exposure powers.

SACB funds were approved by the committee as part of a $2.2 billion appropriation for the State, Commerce and Justice departments, the federal judiciary and other agencies.

The board has been under congressional fire for three months, since President Johnson named Simon F. McHugh Jr., who married a former White House secretary, to a $26,000-a-year membership.

That appointment focused attention on the panel and its inactivity. Its authority to force registration of people and organizations cited as Communist has been overruled by the courts.

"The shameful fact is that each of these five board members has been collecting $500 a week for the past two years for doing absolutely nothing, and that they continue to draw down that fat salary, is a frightening waste of the taxpayers money," Proxmire said.

"This board is a costly anachronism," he said. "Its only service is in providing sinecures for political cronies."

The Appropriations Committee said the withholding of funds would not solve "the workload problem" or determine whether the board should be abolished.

"The tour is to raise funds for the program of SCLC and to educate the communities and mobilize the poor for the program in the city where we work," King said.

Cities on the tour will be Cleveland, Oakland, Calif., Houston, Tex., Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Boston.

Hicks, White Paired Up In Boston Race

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, an avowed foe of school desegregation programs, topped a 10-candidate field Tuesday in winning one of the two places for mayor on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The three-term school committeewoman led by a margin of more than 4-3 over Secretary of State Kevin H. White, who will oppose her in the nonpartisan final election.

U. S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., immediately promised to wage "a strong campaign" for White.

Kennedy did not mention Mrs. Hicks by name, but said only one candidate of the two selected could carry out the mandate from a "large majority" of the voters for "progress and understanding in meeting the problems of our city."

Mrs. Hicks received an unofficial total of 43,572 votes in the city's 275 precincts compared to 30,820 for White. More than 156,000 of the city's 278,562 voters went to the polls.

The matronly 48-year-old grandmother showed well in the city's white working class sections, but—as predicted—ran behind the other candidates in the heavily Negro and in upper class areas.

A practicing lawyer, she is completing her third term on the Boston School Committee, and has been the center of racial controversy for her opposition to efforts to achieve racial balance in the city's schools.

She opposed any change in the city's policy of having students attend their neighborhood schools, which, civil rights leaders claim, keeps Negro children in dilapidated schools that offer inferior instruction.

LBJ Invites British Aide To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson invited British Foreign Secretary George Brown to Washington today for a private chat likely to concern Vietnam, the Middle East and Tuesday night's Big Four dinner at the United Nations.

Brown, who has been attending the U.N. General Assembly opening, planned to fly here for his White House date and return to New York in the afternoon.

U.S. and British informants said one discussion topic would probably be Vietnam. In a U.N. speech Tuesday, Brown called for a negotiated settlement based on the 1954 Geneca Agreements—a position in accord with Washington's policy.

No successor has been announced by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Bradshaw will complete his duties Oct. 15 to assume the position of director of elementary education in the Center Township schools. He has been with the school district 15 years, the last six as elementary principal.

The board also accepted the resignation of Charles P. Henderson of Ohioview as school board director. Henderson resigned after being named superintendent of schools at Midland. He previously had served a six-year term on the board and recently had been appointed to fill a board vacancy created when Bernie Schmitt resigned because of other duties. Henderson would have served until December 1971.

The Western Pennsylvania National Bank's Beaver office was named the depository for school funds.

Dan Carlin of Industry was hired as custodian for the Industry and Logan schools and James Jarrett of Ohioville as part-time custodian for the high school.

Mrs. Helen Wright of Beaver was hired as a part-time nurse for the school district. She is a registered nurse and holds a bachelor of science degree in public school nursing.

Local police charged Biddle June 21. He pleaded not guilty June 22 and the hearing was postponed several times.

Hicks, White Paired Up In Boston Race

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, an avowed foe of school desegregation programs, topped a 10-candidate field Tuesday in winning one of the two places for mayor on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The three-term school committeewoman led by a margin of more than 4-3 over Secretary of State Kevin H. White, who will oppose her in the nonpartisan final election.

U. S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., immediately promised to wage "a strong campaign" for White.

Kennedy did not mention Mrs. Hicks by name, but said only one candidate of the two selected could carry out the mandate from a "large majority" of the voters for "progress and understanding in meeting the problems of our city."

Mrs. Hicks received an unofficial total of 43,572 votes in the city's 275 precincts compared to 30,820 for White. More than 156,000 of the city's 278,562 voters went to the polls.

The matronly 48-year-old grandmother showed well in the city's white working class sections, but—as predicted—ran behind the other candidates in the heavily Negro and in upper class areas.

A practicing lawyer, she is completing her third term on the Boston School Committee, and has been the center of racial controversy for her opposition to efforts to achieve racial balance in the city's schools.

She opposed any change in the city's policy of having students attend their neighborhood schools, which, civil rights leaders claim, keeps Negro children in dilapidated schools that offer inferior instruction.

Millions In Slums

NEW DELHI (AP) — A welfare office estimates there are one million persons living in lean-tos, mud huts and other temporary structures in New Delhi's slums.

A tobacco seed can produce in five months a plant 20 million times its own weight.

LBJ Invites British Aide To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson invited British Foreign Secretary George Brown to Washington today for a private chat likely to concern Vietnam, the Middle East and Tuesday night's Big Four dinner at the United Nations.

Brown, who has been attending the U.N. General Assembly opening, planned to fly here for his White House date and return to New York in the afternoon.

The British foreign minister normally calls on the President during his U.N. visits for talks on main issues facing the two allies.

U.S. and British informants said one discussion topic would probably be Vietnam. In a U.N. speech Tuesday, Brown called for a negotiated settlement based on the 1954 Geneca Agreements—a position in accord with Washington's policy.

Ralph Drake of Lisbon, Columbiana County game protector, is being transferred to Perry County.

Drake, who expects to leave in about two weeks, will reside in the area of New Kensington.

He has served in the county since October 1965, coming from Wayne County.

Resignation Accepted By School Board

The resignation of Donald E. Bradshaw of Brighton Township as elementary principal of Western Beaver County Schools was accepted during a special meeting of the school board Monday night at the high school.

Bradshaw will complete his duties Oct. 15 to assume the position of director of elementary education in the Center Township schools. He has been with the school district 15 years, the last six as elementary principal.

The board also accepted the resignation of Charles P. Henderson of Ohioview as school board director. Henderson resigned after being named superintendent of schools at Midland. He previously had served a six-year term on the board and recently had been appointed to fill a board vacancy created when Bernie Schmitt resigned because of other duties. Henderson would have served until December 1971.

The Western Pennsylvania National Bank's Beaver office was named the depository for school funds.

Dan Carlin of Industry was hired as custodian for the Industry and Logan schools and James Jarrett of Ohioville as part-time custodian for the high school.

Mrs. Helen Wright of Beaver was hired as a part-time nurse for the school district. She is a registered nurse and holds a bachelor of science degree in public school nursing.

A regular meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m.

Mayor Convicts Akron Driver On Lisbon Charges

Mayor Dean Stockman fined him $150 and costs and sentenced him to three days in jail. Biddle's $300 bond was continued pending appeal.

Local police charged Biddle June 21. He pleaded not guilty June 22 and the hearing was postponed several times.

Arraignment of two 18-year-old youths was continued by the mayor because the parents of one did not get an attorney until too late for him to appear last night.

Terry Koffel, Morton St., and Terry Tullis, N. Market St., are charged with petty larceny and destruction of property at the village jail.

Mr. Strong announced the price at $2.8 million. The entire transaction, he said, is subject to Federal Communications Commission approval of the transfer of WHBC's license.

With the impending sale of Brush-Moore stock to Thomson Newspapers, Inc., it is necessary for Brush-Moore to dispose of WHBC, he said.

"We are pleased to make this announcement," Mr. Strong said, "as it will insure continuation of WHBC's present operating policies and programming and will involve no changes in personnel. Paul Gilmore, president of Ohio Broadcasting, will continue as station manager."

Ohio University Again Threatened By Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The union that struck Ohio University last spring has threatened a similar strike at Ohio State University in two weeks.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents nonacademic employes at several state university campuses, says a strike might be called Oct. 5 if four union demands are not met.

The demands, submitted to university officials at a meeting Tuesday, are for higher wages, free parking, free meals and insurance plans.

Robert E. Walsh, director of employe relations for Ohio State, said the higher wages and benefits couldn't be granted without raising student fees. If the union strikes, he said, the university would "take whatever steps are provided for in the law to protect its property, faculty, students and non-striking employes."

William McCue, coordinator for the union, said after Tuesday's meeting, "It's time to take some action. So far the university has been sending in people who lack an authority on monetary issues."

McCue said that if no further meetings with university officials are held, a union vote will be taken Oct. 4 on whether to strike the following day.

The strike by nonacademic employes at Ohio University last spring prompted school officials to call an early spring vacation. The dispute, over union recognition, was settled during the vacation and no school time was lost.

Ogilvie Among Students Remaining In Merit Tests

Students from East Liverpool, East Palestine and Salem are among the 14,000 semi-finalists announced today in the National Merit Scholarship Program representing the most intellectually able high school seniors throughout the nation.

Malcolm D. Ogilvie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Ogilvie of Blazer Ln., is the local student.

He is a member of the National Honor Society and last school year was a member of the Junior Cabinet, treasurer of the Forum Club and served as a delegate to Boys State.

He is a member of the yearbook staff and has been in Thespians two years.

Honored from East Palestine is Daniel Moore, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Moore of 564 N. Market St.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, Hi-Y and the Incentive Scholarship Program.

Last spring he was elected clerk of the Senate of the Model Legislature at Columbus.

The Salem students are Patricia A. Deane, Thomas G. Patton and Thomas B. Smith.

The 14,000 students were the highest scorers in their states in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last February in 17,600 schools. The semi - finalists constitute less than 1 per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the U.S.

They must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semi - finalists become finalists by receiving endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination and submitting information about their achievements and interests.

Names of the Merit Scholars in the 1967-68 program will be announced by early May 1968.

President 'Brainwashed' By Military, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton said today President Johnson was "brainwashed" by U.S. military and defense industry leaders into believing the United States could achieve a military solution to the Vietnam war.

The former Republican national chairman said Johnson in turn "brainwashed" the American people during the 1964 presidential campaign by saying the Southeast Asian war should be fought by Asians.

Noting that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower warned before leaving office in 1961 of the growing power of a "military-industrial complex," Morton added: "I believe that President Johnson was brainwashed by this power center as early as 1961 when, as vice president, he ventured to Saigon on a fact-finding missions."

Morton's remarks echoed in part Michigan Gov. Goerge Romney's charge that Romney was brainwashed by U.S. military and diplomatic leaders in South Vietnam regarding U.S. involvement in the war.

Romney, a leading prospect for the GOP presidential nomination, said that as a result of what he was told in Saigon he supported the involvement but has now changed his mind.

Morton said he originally backed Johnson's escalation of U.S. troop involvement in the war. But today he said, "I have grave doubts that any military action, then or now, would have decisively influenced the conflict."

Contending a political solution in South Vietnam may already be out of reach, Morton called for a unilateral reduction of the U.S. military involvement, if necessary, to halt the fighting.

Morton's assertion that a political victory may be out of reach in Vietnam was echoed independently by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-S.D., a member of the select committee which oversees the operation of the Central Intelligence Agency.

"There is no possibility of establishing a sound, strong and responsible central government in South Vietnam in the foreseeable future," Young said in a report to his constituents.

The 14,000 students were the highest scorers in their states in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last February in 17,600 schools. The semi-finalists constitute less than 1 per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the U.S.

They must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semi-finalists become finalists by receiving endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination and submitting information about their achievements and interests.

Names of the Merit Scholars in the 1967-68 program will be announced by early May 1968.

President 'Brainwashed' By Military, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thruston B. Morton said today President Johnson was "brainwashed" by U.S. military and defense industry leaders into believing the United States could achieve a military solution to the Vietnam war.

The former Republican national chairman said Johnson in turn "brainwashed" the American people during the 1964 presidential campaign by saying the Southeast Asian war should be fought by Asians.

The Kentucky senator, regarded as a foreign policy spokesman for GOP Senate moderates, leveled his strongest attack to date on administration Vietnam policies at the organizational meeting of Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace.

His prepared remarks were released in advance.

The Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace claims a membership that includes business leaders from 44 states.

Noting that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower warned before leaving office in 1961 of the growing power of a "military-industrial complex," Morton added: "I believe that President Johnson was brainwashed by this power center as early as 1961 when, as vice president, he ventured to Saigon on a fact-finding missions."

Morton's remarks echoed in part Michigan Gov. Goerge Romney's charge that Romney was brainwashed by U.S. military and diplomatic leaders in South Vietnam regarding U.S. involvement in the war.

Romney, a leading prospect for the GOP presidential nomination, said that as a result of what he was told in Saigon he supported the involvement but has now changed his mind.

Morton said he originally backed Johnson's escalation of U.S. troop involvement in the war. But today he said, "I have grave doubts that any military action, then or now, would have decisively influenced the conflict."

Contending a political solution in South Vietnam may already be out of reach, Morton called for a unilateral reduction of the U.S. military involvement, if necessary, to halt the fighting.

Morton's assertion that a political victory may be out of reach in Vietnam was echoed independently by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-S.D., a member of the select committee which oversees the operation of the Central Intelligence Agency.

"There is no possibility of establishing a sound, strong and responsible central government in South Vietnam in the foreseeable future," Young said in a report to his constituents.

Super-Vacation For Ohio Man Drawing Near To End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The super-vacation of 26-year - old Larry Hedges drew near an end this week as he rolled into Columbus on a motorcycle that has covered 16,000 miles on four continents.

Hedges, a native of Canton, Ohio, began his trip after finishing 18 months' work with an overseas construction firm — a job he'd taken to see something of the world. He was a field engineer on a project at Da Nang, Vietnam.

"I had never taken a vacation," Hedges said. "So when I decided to wrap up everything I've always wanted to do in one big trip."

After "carefully" riding over South Vietnam, Hedges went on to tour most of Southeast Asia, parts of North Africa and most of the western European countries.

Coming home, Hedges cycled to Expo '67 at Montreal, Canada, and rolled into Columbus this week to visit an aunt and uncle.

SIXTH SENSE seemes to be with Michael Griesemer, 8, of Rotterdam, N.Y., who shows he can identify colors of pictures without seeing them. College Receives Grant Of $50,000

STEUBENVILLE —The College of Steubenville has received a grant of $50,000 from the Frank J. Lewis Foundation of Chicago, it was announced today by the Rev. Columba J. Devlin, T.O.R., president.

Fr. Devlin said the entire sum will be earmarked for the construction of Christ the King Chapel

Te structure will be erected with private funds, with completion expected during the early summer of 1968, he said.

The new chapel, to be of modernistic design, will be erected on a knoll overlooking Franciscan Way and downtown Steubenville, a location selection on the West Campus of the college.

Plans for the chapel are nearing completion and the building will be up for private bidding Oct. 24. Joseph F. Bontempo of Rochester, Pa., is the architect.

Commissioners Vote To Pay Property Tax

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners voted Monday to pay $1,712.85 in real estate taxes and penalties on county property. Taxes are owed for periods before the properties were converted to county use.

The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals declared these taxes must be paid before the state will consider the county's application for exemption.

Properties on which tax is due are the O. S. Hill Building (county office building on E. Washington St.), 1966; county garage outpost at North Georgetown, 1965; Kyes Honor Farm at Rogers, 1963-64, and the former GI homes on the County Home farm, 1960-61.

District Fire Spotter Will Speak At Lisbon

LISBON — Lee R. Cates, who flies a fire - spotter plane out of New Philadelphia for the Ohio Division of Forestry and Reclamation, will address the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council Thursday at 8 p.m. in Williamsport Chapel.

Progress reports will be given on the Beaver Creek State Park and the restoration of the chapel and Gaston's Mill in the park.

Commissioners Take Action To Correct Sewage Problem

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have taken the first step to correct a sewage problem in Lisbon.

Their application to the Water Pollution Control Board, Ohio Department of Health, asks for permission to discharge untreated domestic waste water into a ditch draining eventually into the middle fork of Beaver Creek.

Commissioners were directed to create a subdistrict of Columbiana County Water and Sewer District 2 to include this unsewered area next to town. The state suggested the sewer lines in the Rose Allotment could accommodate the proposed collection system.

The application to discharge wastes is, in effect, a reply to the state's letter of Aug. 31, according to William P. McKenna, municipal projects engineer for W. E. Quicksall & Associates, Inc., at New Philadelphia, the engineering firm for District 2.

McKenna told the commissioners what to expect next. The Water Pollution Control Board will request that immediate corrective measures be taken, McKenna said, and will advise the commissioners of a hearing date. Once the need for the project is established at the hearing, the WPCB will order the commissioners to take corrective action.

The village Board of Public Affairs will be asked to work on the problem with representatives of District 2.

McKenna said the Ohio board of health is in the process of reviewing conditions in the Salem area and soon will arrange a visit to the Guilford Lake area.

Captain Weeps As 'Mary' Heads For Retirement

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY (AP) — The Queen Mary's master captain rushed from a champagne-splashed goodbye party for his ship today and wept as she steamed toward home and retirement.

"I guess you won't mind?" Capt. J. Treasure Jones, 62, said. "I truly love this ship. There will never be another ship like this one. Her career ends here, so does mine."

It was the luxury liner's last night on the North Atlantic and the 33rd anniversary of her launching. Passengers seemed reluctant to let the night end and danced, drank and sang till dawn.

The partying carried on even as Cherbourg, France came clearly into view.

Training for Emergencies

This is not a real fire, but a practice one. Knowing how to recognize and quickly extinguish various types of fires is as important as fire prevention at Crucible. Employes at the Midland division learn both, prevention and fire fighting, at a special school held each summer on the plant grounds. Classes are scheduled so all employes who wish may attend. Instructions are given in extinguishing various types of fires as well as in use of fire fighting equipment. Many hundreds of employes have taken advantage of fire school. As a result the division is well staffed to handle almost any fire emergency that develops. An added bonus is that employes are more fire prevention conscious at home as well, and better able to handle emergencies.

Super-Vacation For Ohio Man Drawing Near To End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The super-vacation of 26-year - old Larry Hedges drew near an end this week as he rolled into Columbus on a motorcycle that has covered 16,000 miles on four continents.

Hedges, a native of Canton, Ohio, began his trip after finishing 18 months' work with an overseas construction firm -- a job he'd taken to see something of the world. He was a field engineer on a project at Da Nang, Vietnam.

"I had never taken a vacation," Hedges said. "So when I decided to wrap up everything I've always wanted to do in one big trip."

Hedges bought his lightweight racing cycle in Singapore this March, loaded it with about 300 pounds of gear, and set off.

After "carefully" riding over South Vietnam, Hedges went on to tour most of Southeast Asia, parts of North Africa and most of the western European countries.

Hedges shuttled on and off ships during the tour, which included such side ventures as flying a plane in Malaya and skin diving in Greece.

Coming home, Hedges cycled to Expo '67 at Montreal, Canada, and rolled into Columbus this week to visit an aunt and uncle.

And he isn't finished yet.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Ashamed Screaming Mother" had special meaning for me because my own mother was the champion screamer of all times.

A child never forgets when a mother says, "I wish you had died when you were a baby. You have been a terrible disappointment to me." Or — "You ruined my life. I wish I'd never had you."

My mother's favorite expression after one of her screaming fits was, "I love you so much I'd walk into the ocean to save you." Since we lived 1,000 miles from the nearest ocean I could see no chance of her proving her love in this dramatic manner.

I once said to her, "If you love me so much why don't you just treat me a little better and stop saying such awful things?"

I'm a grown woman now and my mother has been in a mental institution for many years but I truthfully can say I have little or no compassion for her. I've tried to be forgiving but it's impossible to erase those horrible childhood memories.

Please get this vital message across to all screaming mothers everywhere. It could save their youngsters a lot of grief. —ONE WHO SURVIVED.

Dear One: It is difficult to get ANY message across to a mother who would say to her child, "I wish you had died when you were a baby," and then, minutes later, offer to walk into the ocean to prove her love. You might just as well try to bore a hole through a brick wall with a toothpick.

Your mother's wide emotional swings indicate that she was a very sick woman. What I would like to tell all screaming mothers everywhere is this: When you feel yourself slipping out of control, get professional help.

Dear Ann: Don't give me heck. Just tell me what to do. I'm 19 now and have grown up a lot these past three years.

When I was a junior in high school there was a fad. If a fellow liked a girl he gave her a street sign. I now have in the basement of our home signs which read Yield, Slow, Dangerous Curve, Stop, Go, No Passing Allowed, and Soft Shoulder.

I'd like to take these signs back but I don't know where they belong. Also, I don't want to get into trouble. Will you please tell me what to do?—CHANGED SIGNALS.

Dear Changed: Telephone the police and ask if they will send someone from the traffic department to your home to pick up the signs, or if they would prefer that the signs be brought to the nearest station.

Be aware that you are in possession of property which you do not rightfully own. I'm hopeful that the police will be lenient since you are volunteering to return the signs.

And, by the way, I hope no lives were lost because some fun-loving kid removed a sign which was placed at a critical spot for a very good reason.

Confidentially

To Want To Help: You are not a physician and neither am I. It's a fact that some skin eruptions are caused by emotional problems, but I would not attempt to diagnose the case and neither should you. Suggest that your friend see a specialist.

Good Posture Is Important

Prevention has been called the daughter of intelligence. Faulty posture practices often can go unnoticed until the adolescent years when the sudden spurt in growth accentuates defects. Posture habits, good or bad, are established at an early age.

Ida Jean Kain

Poor posture can stem from a number of factors — inadequate nutrition, muscular weakness, insufficient rest, as well as from wrong posture habits. Periodic health examinations are important. The doctor will be alert to early posture defects, look into the cause and recommend the correction. A checkup is particularly necessary after an illness or following an injury.

—:—

MANY teen - agers write to complain about knock - knees. Wrong position of the feet in walking can be an early cause. Toes should be pointed straight ahead. This is the strong position of the foot for the weight falls along the whole length of the arch.

Toeing out is incorrect foot posture, since this allows the weight to fall along the inner borders of the feet — a week position. The doctor may advise special shoes to correct a structural defect, particularly when the child is young. A corrective exercise is to practice walking a chalk line, placing one foot directly ahead of the other, and throwing the weight to the outer borders of the feet.

Little tots love to sit on the floor. The best way to sit is tailor - fashion, legs crossed in front of body. Too often children get in the habit of sitting on the floor with legs back, feet turned out at each side. . .they sit between their legs. This habit can lead to knock - knees and foot troubles. Sitting on the floor with buttocks resting on legs is not good either, since it can weaken the ankles. Sitting on one foot can lead to lopsidedness.

Round shoulders are fostered by sitting on a hassock or foot stool with no back support, perhaps to watch TV. Children who are convalescing from an illness should have a backrest to use when they sit up in bed.

SWAYBACK is a common posture fault brought on by weak abdominal muscles and out-of-kilter posture. Teen-agers particularly lament this figure fault. When the small of the back sinks in, the abdomen protrudes and rear hips trail.

The following exercise is fun and effective: Lie on back, knees flexed. The exercise is to hug both knees to chest and rock back and forth along the spine. Finally, rock right up to a sitting position and, reaching forward with fingertips, touch toes.

The best possible exercise is the continual practice of good posture - in sitting, standing and walking.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My nephew has just returned from Vietnam.

While he was there, I sent him packets of soft drink mix, etc. Thinking he might not have any way of measuring water for the mixes, I packaged them in a quart-size plastic frozen food container. These have snap-on lids and are rather inexpensive.

My nephew told me that after using the container for his drink mixes, it was very useful for storing stamps, photographs, etc. The plastic container kept out the moisture.

Just wanted to pass this tip on so that others sending packages to Vietnam might like to use my idea since it seemed to be such a useful item over there.

MRS. D. Y. F.

Bless you. We thank you no end for writing and sharing with us. All of us are interested in learning how we may, even though in a small way, be of help to our servicemen in Vietnam.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought an unpainted what-not shelf, painted it the color of my baby's room and hung it near his bath table. It is very convenient for tissues, vitamins, bath articles, etc.

Also, there's always something there I can hand the baby to play with while changing his diaper. It has certainly saved steps for this busy mother.

ANOTHER MOM.

LETTERS OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: This will possibly be a comfort to all mothers and fathers who have teenagers:

The day eventually comes when all your yelling and threats pay off. They will get married!

When we go to our son's home now, we hear him tell his children, "Turn off that light when you leave a room, or I'll swat you." "No use to run the shower until the tank is empty . . . you can get just as clean with less. . . ."

Yes, children finally grow up.

GRANDPA.

DEAR FOLKS: Here's a little dilly I learned this week.

When you want to make signs for a church bazaar, etc., use those felt ink markers and write on foil. We unrolled foil from the box, laid it flat on a table and printed away like mad.

We did find that red and black markers make the most attractive signs. And we also learned that the marking did not smear when it rained as it did on our cardboard signs.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To protect and beautify my window sills, I covered them with ceramic tile to match the color of my room.

Not only do the window sills look good, but all I have to do is sponge away the dust. Also, no more worry about the paint chipping.

SHEILA SILVER.

DEAR HELOISE: I find it most helpful to purchase kitchen utensils with different colored handles that are easy to spot.

For instance, my bottle opener has a yellow handle, my rubber spatula has a blue handle, my egg turner has a pink one and my ice pick a red one. These do not detract from my kitchen color scheme because they are inside the drawer.

I still have my hanging racks of matched sets on the kitchen wall that present no problem because they are in plain sight.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My nephew has just returned from Vietnam.

While he was there, I sent him packets of soft drink mix, etc. Thinking he might not have any way of measuring water for the mixes, I packaged them in a quart-size plastic frozen food container. These have snap-on lids and are rather inexpensive.

My nephew told me that after using the container for his drink mixes, it was very useful for storing stamps, photographs, etc. The plastic container kept out the moisture.

Just wanted to pass this tip on so that others sending packages to Vietnam might like to use my idea since it seemed to be such a useful item over there.

MRS. D. Y. F.

Bless you. We thank you no end for writing and sharing with us. All of us are interested in learning how we may, even though in a small way, be of help to our servicemen in Vietnam.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought an unpainted what-not shelf, painted it the color of my baby's room and hung it near his bath table. It is very convenient for tissues, vitamins, bath articles, etc.

Also, there's always something there I can hand the baby to play with while changing his diaper. It has certainly saved steps for this busy mother.

ANOTHER MOM.

LETTERS OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: This will possibly be a comfort to all mothers and fathers who have teenagers:

The day eventually comes when all your yelling and threats pay off. They will get married!

When we go to our son's home now, we hear him tell his children, "Turn off that light when you leave a room, or I'll swat you." "No use to run the shower until the tank is empty . . . you can get just as clean with less. . . ."

Yes, children finally grow up.

GRANDPA.

DEAR FOLKS: Here's a little dilly I learned this week.

When you want to make signs for a church bazaar, etc., use those felt ink markers and write on foil. We unrolled foil from the box, laid it flat on a table and printed away like mad.

We did find that red and black markers make the most attractive signs. And we also learned that the marking did not smear when it rained as it did on our cardboard signs.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To protect and beautify my window sills, I covered them with ceramic tile to match the color of my room.

Not only do the window sills look good, but all I have to do is sponge away the dust. Also, no more worry about the paint chipping.

SHEILA SILVER.

DEAR HELOISE: I find it most helpful to purchase kitchen utensils with different colored handles that are easy to spot.

For instance, my bottle opener has a yellow handle, my rubber spatula has a blue handle, my egg turner has a pink one and my ice pick a red one. These do not detract from my kitchen color scheme because they are inside the drawer.

I still have my hanging racks of matched sets on the kitchen wall that present no problem because they are in plain sight.

ERMA McDOUGALL.

It's true that swimmers can not sink in the Great Salt Lake, but they do risk choking for the water is eight times saltier than the ocean.

We sincerely trust that our preceeding series of Questions and and answers have been enlightening to you.

Any confidential questions you may harbor concerning funerals or procedures will be gladly answered by personal consultation, without any obligation on your part.

Please feel free to consult with us at any time.

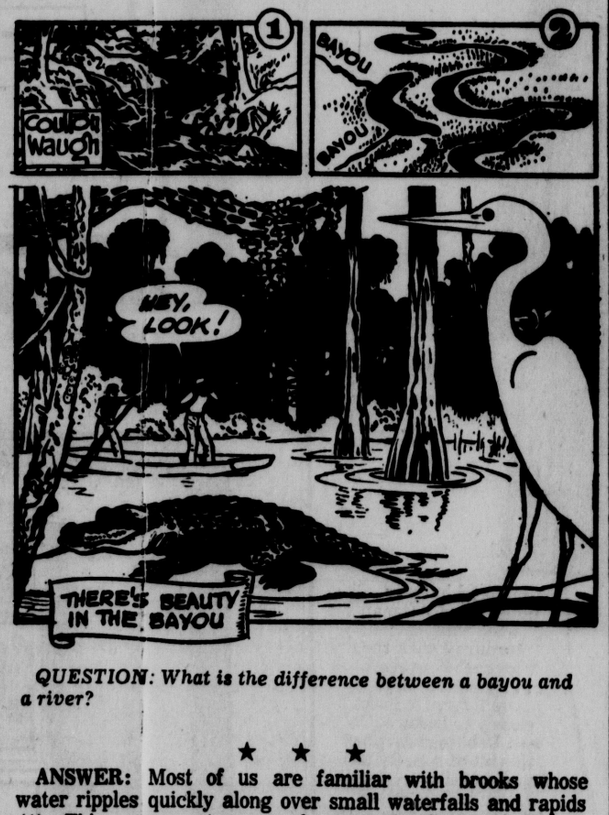
Junior Editors Quiz on BAYOUS



QUESTION: What is the difference between a bayou and a river?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Most of us are familiar with brooks whose water ripples quickly along over small waterfalls and rapids (1). This movement occurs because the brook is flowing from a higher level to a lower one. But the part of Louisiana where the Mississippi River flows out through a delta into the sea was once a bay filled with water. The great river brought so much silt that it filled the bay with soil. As a result, much of lower Louisiana is flat, almost level with the water. Consequently, in this area creeks and small rivers connecting with larger bodies of water move very slowly. Sometimes larger rivers, swollen with floods, will back up into the smaller streams, making them actually run both ways. These smaller, sluggish waterways are called bayous by the inhabitants of the lower part of Louisiana, Texas and Mississippi. Frequently, such bayous drain into oxbow lakes, which have been formed by loops of a river changing its course (2). In other places, similar waterways would probably be called creeks. Rivers are larger than creeks or bayous.

Columnist Inspects Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you think you have dental woes, consider the plight of George Washington. The "father of his country" had lost all his teeth by the time he was 40, and in later years wore at least three sets of false teeth.

Although Dr. Sigmund Freud's psychoanalytic theories are under considerable scientific attack, some 250,000 Americans pay a million dollars daily to lie on a couch and talk about their emotional problems.

Much fun is poked at the vanity of bearded hippies and beatniks. But men who wear beards have always been vain of them. During the 17th and 18th centuries gentlemen of class even wore cumbersome cardboard boxes in bed to protect their chin whiskers while they slept.

The tireder people become individually, the more energy their civilization seems to need. It is estimated that between now and the year 2000, the United States will consume twice as much energy as it did in the last 150 years. And in the next 33 years the whole world will use up as much energy as it did in the last 2,000 years.

The chances are one in six that you have some kind of allergy—or will develop one during your lifetime.

Quotable notables: "The average Hollywood film star's ambition is to be admired by an American, courted by an Italian, married to an Englishman and have a french boy friend."—Katharine Hepburn.

Tip to the thrifty: Don't leave your money dormant in a bank too long. In some states small bank accounts that are inactive for 10 years or more may be closed out by the bank with the balance, minus service charges, being sent to the state.

Artful weavers: Spider webs are almost as distinctive as human fingerprints. Each of the 30,000 known varieties of spiders has its own style of weaving and turns out a new web daily made of self-spun filaments stronger than a strand of steel the same thickness. Some spiders even weave nets and use them to "lasso" their prey.

Famous firsts: The first rear view mirror on a motor vehicle is believed to have been used by Ray Harroun, a famed racing driver. Installed over the dashboard of his Marmon "Wasp" racer, the mirror helped him win the Indianapolis 500-mile race in 1911.

History lesson: What U.S. presidents bore these nicknames: "Father of the American Navy," "Petticoat Pet," "His Fraudulency," "Grandpa's Grandson, and "That Man in the White House'? They were John Adams, Martin Van Buren, Rutherford B. Hays, Benjamin Harrison, and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Frontier: Man's next frontier will be an old one—the undeveloped tropics. The tropical zone includes more than a quarter of the earth's land. Although as yet uncrowded with people, about four-fifths or all existing plant and animal species dwell in the tropics.

It was Charles M. Schwab who observed, "The man who does not work for the love of work but only for money is not likely to make money nor to find much fun in life."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I prevent nylon cord or twine from fraying at a cut end?

A.—By heating the cut end over a small flame. Nylon will melt and the strands will bond into a solid unit. Knots can be prevented from working loose by this same treatment.

Q.—How can I remove lead-pencil stains from fabrics?

A.—Work glycerin or heavy detergent solution into the stains with a blunt - edged object. Apply a few drops of ammonia, and gently work this into the stain. As the stains dissolve, flush from the fabric with warm water.

Q.—How can I, when painting with enamel, cause it to flow on more easily and smoothly?

A.—Gravy will not soak through the lower crust of your meat pie if the white of egg is brushed over the crust.

W. Va. Economy Hit Record During 1966, Chamber Says

The chamber, using bank debits, department store sales, personal income, coal production and electric power production as indicators, said the state's economy had increased 35 per cent since the 1957-59 period.

Part of the increase is due to inflation, the chamber's report said, but when adjusted to compensate for inflation, still shows an increase.

The report said although the state's population declined six-tenths of one per cent during the year ending July 1, and declined 3.3 per cent since 1960, most business indicators were up.

Increases were recorded last year in property assessments, up 5.6 per cent; personal income, up 7.0 per cent; natural gas production, up 1.6 per cent; petroleum production, up 6.1 per cent; value of stone production, up 12.1 per cent, lumber production was up 4.8 per cent and electric power production was up 20.8 per cent, the report said.

Gains were also made last year, the report said, in retail sales, up 5.2 per cent; farm income, up 1.4 per cent; bank deposits, up 7.3 per cent; dollar value of manufactured products, up 20.7 per cent; average monthly employment in manufacturing industries was up 2.5 per cent and the production of sand and gravel was up .8 per cent.

The only indicator showing a decline was the value of salt produced which declined 1.7 per cent last year, from $5,539,000 in 1965 to $5,446,000 last year.

Dawson Elevated To Manager Post

Al Dawson of Elmhurst Estates, Calcutta, has been named manager of the Firestone Store here and Bill Taylor of LaCroft has begun duties as credit manager.

Dawson, 32, had been credit manager, while Taylor was a retail salesman at the corporation's store at Weirton. Dawson, a 1953 graduate of East Liverpool, succeeds Don Marshall, who was transferred to Niles.

Dawson previously had been an insurance agent. He is married and has seven children.

Taylor, 25, a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School, is married and has two children.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The Louisville & Nashville Railroad recently sent William Stagg a $3.50 refund on a ticket purchased 73 years earlier. Nobody knows who purchased the ticket. Stagg found it in the debris when an old railroad station was demolished. He wrote the railroad, explained the circumstances and collected.

W. Va. Hires 4 More Liquor Club Agents

CHARLESTON (AP) — Four additional inspectors have been employed by the West Virginia Alcohol Beverage Control Commission to supervise activities of private liquor clubs in the state.

ABC Commissioner Clarence Elmore said the money to pay the men was made available from the governor's contingent fund.

Elmore said he will ask the legislature in January for money to employ the new inspectors in a permanent basis and to increase his permanent inspection staff from eight to 10.

Gave Silver Cups

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A. B. Sawyer found a use for the silver ore which his father dug 80 years ago in Mexico and the Rockies. Sawyer used it to make silver julep cups for his grandchildren, a hobby he took up at the age of 78.
